Second Battle Between Stieska, Parente Tuesday

Large Turnout Expected; Both Mayor Candidates Are Confident

An estimated 8,000 of Monessen's nearly 10,500 registered voters are expected to go to the polls Tuesday in an election that will see incumbent Mayor Hugo J. Parente and his Republican opponent, John R. Stieska, lock horns for the second time this year in a fight for mayor.

Parente and Stieska, a registered Democrat, faced each other in the primary election, with Parente an easy victor for the Democratic nomination.

The two also contested for the GOP nomination with write-in and sticker votes since no Republican filed as a mayor candidate — or for any local offices for that matter.

In a legal battle that went to the state Supreme Court over the validity of write-in votes cast on voting machines, Stieska was declared the winner.

Seeks Fourth Term

Parente is seeking an unprecedented fourth term in the Mayor's office. The only Monessen mayor ever to serve as many as three terms was the late Carl Woodward. He was the first man to be elected mayor after Monessen became a third class city in the 1920's and the only Republican ever to hold the office.

Most political observers think the mayoralty contest in Tuesday's election will be a "shoo-in" for Parente, basing their claims on the Democrats' 9,400 vote registrations to the Republicans' 1,100.

The observers also point out that Stieska was an easy victim for Parente in the May primary even though pre-election predictions were for one of the closest races in Parente's career. Parente won by over 1,400 votes.

Taking No Chances

In the primary battle, Stieska had many supporters who since have returned to Parente's side. This transfer of affections is expected to hurt Stieska's chances.

Parente, however, is taking no chances, stating:

"I have always worked hard in every campaign I've been in and this one is no exception."

He is telling his backers that their biggest opponent is "Mr. Overconfident."

Stieska, on the other hand, is claiming that he will win. He said:

"The sentiment all over town is for a change. People are sick and tired of Parente's one-man rule. It's time for a change."

Both Parente and Stieska submitted written statements to The Daily Independent today attacking the merits of each other.

In his statement, Parente said he has been waiting "and so have the voters of Monessen for a definite program for the City of Monessen that my Republican opponent proposes as a candidate for the highest office in the Community.

"This is a time for some solid and serious thinking. My opponent has given every indication that he is a political fraud who has no real ideas about governmental administration. He has built his campaign on criticism, slander without revealing what program, if any, he is running on.

"His campaign has become a

Court Refuses To Throw Out Glick Indictments

Washington County Court has refused to quash most of the indictments against William Glick, former Charleroi businessman accused of fradulent conversion, forgery and embezzlement.

The first charges against Glick are scheduled to be heard by the court on Nov. 12.

Counsel for Glick asked that the indictments be thrown out. The motion was argued before court and the petition was denied.

However the court ordered the District Attorney's office to produce a bill of particulars for each indictment. The court also ruled out some charges, where, according to the DA's officer, there was a "multiplicity of charges."

Glick was arrested earlier this year. Police said thousands of dollars were involved.

Glick was an officer in the Crown Sales Corp. and was also connected with Crown Contracting, a partnership. In two cases, Simon Felser of Pittsburgh, a Crown Sales officer and Crown Contracting partner, was indicted along with Glick.

Clerk of Courts Candidate Is Seriously Ill

Howard W. Bricker, veteran Westmoreland County deputy sheriff and Democratic nominee for Clerk of Courts, is reported seriously ill in Westmoreland County Hospital, Greensburg, it was learned today.

Bricker last week was stricken with a case of flu and yesterday suffered a hemorrhage. He already has had several blood transfusions.

Bricker won the Democratic nomination for Clerk of Courts over Raymond Turner, who was appointed to fill an unexpired term. Turner is the son of Chief of County Detectives A. B. "Buddy" Turner, reputed leader of the powerful Democratic machine. Bricker ran as an independent Democrat.

Man Killed on Penn Parkway

PITTSBURGH (UP) — A discharged soldier, tentatively identified as Raymond Earl Jackman, about 35, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was killed on the Penn Lincoln Parkway East near here early today.

Jackman ran into the side of a tractor-trailer while attempting to cross the heavily-traveled artery, police said.

Craig Tommy Mr. Sellman

PARADE PRIZE WINNERS — These Rostraver Twp brothers were judged the best "bride and groom" in last night's Halloween parade in Monessen. They are the Sellman brothers; Craig, 2 and Tommy, 5. Looking on is their dad, Eugene Sellman. Tommy actually drove the battery-powered automobile along the parade route.

MONESSEN MUMMERS — Here are part of the costumed "mummers" who took part in last night's Halloween parade. Thousands of spectators lined Monessen's downtown streets to watch the annual event. Four musical organizations and more than a half dozen floats took part.

Halloween Parade Turns Out To Be Eerie in All Respects

Thousands of spectators lined downtown Monessen streets last night to watch the annual Halloween parade which turned out to be eerie in more respects than one.

To begin with, the costumed mummers provided the traditional "ghostly" setting.

Then, too, the line of march was held up repeatedly, and nobody seems to know exactly why.

One float had battery trouble which dimmed its spotlights. Another float broke down shortly before the parade and was not entered. And there were reports that one of the new model cars stopped suddenly and had to be pushed out of the way by a group of spectators.

Float Has Troubles

The eerie happenings added an appropriate note to the parade, which was again sponsored by the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club and the city's Fire Departments.

Four musical organizations took part: Monessen High School band, Donora High School Band, Donora Clan Grant kilt band and the Monessen Boys Brigade Drum and Bugle Corps.

One of the most unusual floats failed to make the parade. Motor trouble developed under the float prepared by the District Improvement Council and it had to be withdrawn.

The Beta Sigma Phi float developed battery trouble during the parade, but managed to win first place none-the-less.

The parade judging committee was headed by Catherine Harris. Other judges were Elizabeth Vivian, Edith Falbo, Inez Gilotty, Mary Ezerski, Adeline Dzyak, Ann

12-month Year Is Proposed

HARRISBURG (UP) — A 12-month college year was proposed today for Pennsylvania's state teachers colleges as one way to meet the ever-increasing demands on the state's higher education facilities.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state public instruction superintendent, Millersville State Teachers College board of directors, that a 12-month year divided into trimesters or quarters could probably permit students to complete their studies in three years rather than four and would enable the colleges to accommodate many qualified students now turned away each year for lack of facilities.

Pointing out that similar accelerated programs were adopted by many colleges during World War II Boehm said the result would be "an increase in the number of students accepted for teacher education."

Ike to Speak in Oklahoma City

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower announced today he will speak at Oklahoma City Nov. 13 in the first of several addresses to bolster public confidence in U.S. scientific progress and economic power.

The President has said the speeches, scheduled in the wake of Sputnik, will be designed to alert the nation to the need for pushing scientific developments.

The Chief Executive will speak at the invitation of Raymond Gary, the state's Democratic governor.

The White House said the President will fly to Oklahoma City in the early afternoon of Nov. 13 and return to Washington either late that night or early the next day.

Air Force Forced into Economy Cutbacks to Rush Missile Program

Needed to Make Up Increased Costs in Missile-plane Buying

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Air Force, determined to keep missile and space procurement programs operating full blast, was forced today into making further sacrifices in less crucial activities.

The cutbacks, coming on top of recent economy reductions, are necessary to make up increased costs in missile-plane purchases of 800 million dollars since last January.

An Air Force spokesman disclosed that the rise, amounting to almost 10 per cent of the entire program, was due to higher labor and material costs. Part also resulted from too low estimates in the budget President Eisenhower submitted to Congress at the beginning of the year.

Costs High

The cost of the program now totals $9,600,000,000 — more than half the entire Air Force budget of $18,200,000,000.

The Air Force announced Thursday night that its "Snark" long-range strategic missile was successfully test fired earlier in the day at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., testing center. The "Snark" is a winged, pilotless bomber destined for eventual use by the Strategic Air Command. It has flown as far as 3,000 miles.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, huddled with his cabinet today for what was expected to be another high-level review of America's course in meeting Russia's challenge in the space-missile era. The meeting followed an extraordinary session Thursday of the National Security Council which presumably dealt with the same problems.

At the same time, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, raised serious doubts about the wisdom of Eisenhower's proposed plan to share U.S. atomic and weapons secrets with Britain and other NATO nations.

Anderson said the U.S. should "work with them in every possible way." But he wants to make certain no U.S. secrets find their way into Soviet hands.

Follow Earlier Cuts

The new Air Force cutbacks followed a number of economy moves this year. These included elimination of a number of jet fighter and reserve groups, stretch-outs in jet plane and B52 heavy bomber production and a reduction in civilian employment.

Defense officials have approved a three-point plan for making up the 800 million dollar Air Force procurement deficit:

—A further slowdown or cutback in a number of activities to make more funds available for missile and plane purchases.

—Slowing down payments for so-called "cost plus" contracts.

—Addition of $1,300,000,000 to the Air Force budget for procurement, ordered by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy last Tuesday.

Steel Union to Feature Donora In TV Program

PITTSBURGH (UP) — United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said today the union will launch a communications experiment this month to increase interest in USW activities.

Twenty-nine television stations across the country will carry the first broadcast scheduled in most areas for No. 10. The programs will be called "The United Steelworkers TV Meeting of the Month."

McDonald said they are designed to "let the general public look over our shoulder and see how a big influential union operates."

The programs will "encourage better attendance" by stressing the important issues before American labor, he said. They will encourage USW members to attend and take part in the local meetings.

McDonald said the initial program will detail the union's supplemental unemployment benefits program and how it alleviated the unemployment situation for 460 workers at U.S. Steel Corporation's Donora, Pa., zinc works which was closed recently.

Giant Mackinac Bridge Open to Traffic Today

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (UP)—The Mackinac Bridge, a 100-million-dollar link joining a state divided by water and creating a new highway passage to Canada and the Northwest, opens to traffic today.

The five miles of steel and concrete spanning the Straits of Mackinac between Lakes Michigan and Huron became a reality as Gov. G. Mennen Williams and 200 other dignitaries turned out for a morning inspection tour before the first "official" crossing in the afternoon.

The span will officially open at 2 p.m. e.s.t.

Mighty Mack's 8,614-foot measurement from anchorage to anchorage gives it billing as "the world's longest suspension bridge." Its 3,800 foot center span between the two main towers ranks second only to San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge.

Until today's opening, the only transportation link between highly industrial Lower Michigan and the rugged Upper Peninsula was a fleet of state-owned car ferries plying the Straits.

Morgan to Get Chairmanship of House Committee

Dr. Thomas E. Morgan, Fredericktown, may be the next chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Congressman Morgan is second in seniority only to the present chairman, Congressman Thomas S. Gordon, of Chicago. Gordon has been seriously ill and friends report he will not run for reelection next year.

Since committee heads are selected on the basis of seniority, Dr. Morgan — now serving his seventh term in Congress — will automatically move up providing the Democrats remain the majority party in the House.

If that happens, Congressman Morgan will be the first Pennsylvania representative in years to serve as chairman of a major committee.

Rumor Claims Reds to Explode H-bomb on Moon

WASHINGTON (UP)—The latest rumor going the rounds is that the Russians plan to explode a rocket-borne H-bomb on the moon on or about Nov. 7.

If that's true—look out! The rocket and its cargo of violence are more likely than not to boomerang.

Here is a sort of anatomical report on this particular rumor:

A fellow tells the United Press he talked to a guy "high in U.S. intelligence" who told him that on or before Nov. 7 the Russians are expected to fire a rocket with an H-bomb warhead set to explode on the moon.

The Russians (the rumor continues) will announce this in advance so the world can see how far they have progressed in missile warfare. They intend to fire their H-bomb rocket when the moon is in such a phase that the bomb will explode in the dark portion where the flash will be easily seen from earth.

Well, a couple of things can be said right off:

N. Belle Vernon Lad Attacked, Bitten by Rat

A 13-year-old North Belle Vernon boy was attacked and bitten by a large sewer rat yesterday as he was en route to school.

The boy, Ronald Simboli, 626 Green St., suffered only a minor cut on his hand. However he has been inoculated against a possible infection and will remain under a physician's care for the next few weeks.

Ronald said he was bitten as he and two companions headed for classes at Vernon Junior High. The rat darted from hedges along Speer St. directly in front of the trio.

One of the boys tossed a pair of football shoes at the rodent. The other two closed in and apparently cornered the rat.

It was then that the rodent leaped at Ronald and clung with its teeth to his hand. The youngster and his companions were able to knock the rat loose.

After the experience, the boys headed for school without tracking the rat any further. School officials immediately got in touch with Ronald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guido Simboli who hustled their son off to a physician.

Campaign Notes—

County Democrats in Big 'Windup' Rally

The Westmoreland County Democratic candidates announced last night that they are willing to let the outcome of the November 5 general election now rest with the voters after predicting victory at a huge "campaign windup" rally at Zelmore's Auction Barn, Route 31, near Mount Pleasant.

The entire slate of candidates addressed the group of some 2,500 party workers and leaders. State Sen. John H. Dent led a group of state and county officials who spoke for the ticket. Joseph M. Loughran, unsuccessful primary judicial candidate, spoke and said he is working for all the candidates and a straight party victory on November 5.

Dent told the party followers that the signs of our times are the important issues of the campaign and made a report on what he termed a lack of leadership in Washington under the Eisenhower administration. He told the party workers that the elections are won on local and county levels and urged them to go out and work hard for a victory on November 5.

Judge Edward G. Bauer, who was termed the dean of the ticket, called for a complete party victory on November 5, and stated:

"We have been talking and working for the straight ticket all these weeks, and that's the way the vote will come in on election night."

The judge urged the group not to be swayed by what he called, "last minute propaganda that may come from the opposition." He also lashed out at the opposition for what he termed its attack on the courts, and added.

"Your courts are your last bulwark to your freedoms, and you should not be given to lose faith in them through vicious and unfounded charges, such as some of your candidates are passing out."

In his remarks, District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco, who is seeking a judicial seat, praised

MEA to Hold Annual Banquet Here Nov. 14

A. Clair Moser, associate executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association will be the guest speaker at the annual public relations dinner of the Monessen Education Association, at Johnson's restaurant Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at 6:15.

The local teachers, who will have school directors and retired teachers as their guests, have also invited civic and business organizations to send representatives to the affair.

The appearance of Moser, for many years a leader in state-wide education circles, will highlight the observance of American Education Week here.

Clifford Jones, president of the M.E.A. will serve as toastmaster at the dinner, and Reah Scanor will be in charge of group singing.

Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of schools, will be called on for remarks.

Plans for the affair are being made by the social, program, and public relations committees, headed respectively by Jean Miller, Olive Travis, and Mary Butler.

The M.E.A., affiliated with both the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the National Education Association, has a membership of more than a hundred local teachers and administrators. Clifford Jones, serving as president for the third year, has as assisting officers Norma Maatta, vice president; Mary Elinitsas, secretary, and Lillian Kurey, treasurer.

Elected by the teachers to represent them on the M.E.A.'s Advisory Board this year are Helen Soles, Dorothy Stieska, Ida Siple, Armand Mori, Olive Travis, Ena Labeka, Tyyne Hanninen, Wilma Lander, and Mary Butler.

Jones has appointed the following persons as chairmen of the group's standing committees: Tyyne Hanninen and John Duromo, welfare; Wilma Lander, resolutions; Mary Butler, public relations; Bernard Weiss, publications; Miriam Johnson, ethics; Marjorie Chalfant, membership; Norma Maatta, legislative; Jean Miller, social; Olive Travis, programs, and Helen Williams, nominating.

10 Years For Erie Highway

HARRISBURG (UP)—Between 10 and 15 years' work lies ahead before the first automobile turns onto the proposed new superhighway connecting Pittsburgh with Lake Erie.

Despite requests from various groups in western Pennsylvania urging quick construction of the Pittsburgh-Erie expressway in order to accommodate traffic to and from the new St. Lawrence Seaway opening in 1959, state Highway Department officials said today the first spadeful of dirt on the project cannot be turned before sometime in 1961. At least 10 years will be required to complete the road.

The department has had a consulting engineering firm at work on the first section of the road between Ft. Duquesne Bridge in Pittsburgh and Warringdale, in anticipation of the federal approval, but no work has been done as yet on the rest of the route to Erie.

The engineers must survey several routes of the new highway and make their recommendations to the department as to which route would be feasible. A department spokesman said officials are now negotiating with several engineering firms to conduct the surveys between Warringdale and Erie, and estimated the job would take about 18-20 months.

Federal Approval Required

When the surveying is completed, the department must lay the route it chooses, together with all the other proposed alternate routes, before federal officials for their approval. Federal approval of the route must be received before the next step—the actual design of the road itself, which will take another 12 to 18 months—can be taken.

This tentative schedule would make it 1961 before the bulldozers move the first ounce of dirt in laying the road.

Ninety per cent of the cost of the huge project will be borne by the federal government. Using the department's yardstick of "a million-a-mile" the total cost would be about 140 million dollars, of which the state would pay approximately 14 million dollars.

Because of its importance, department officials expect to encounter a great deal of controversy as to the exact route of the superhighway and the number and location of its interchanges, each one of which might mean the economic life or death of communities along the route.

Already, with the department planning construction along the most direct north-south route generally following the present Route 19, there are indications that a group in Sharon will press for construction of the road through that area. Similar groups, urging routing of the road to serve their areas, will probably appear.

Kefauver Calls For Reductions In Steel Prices

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), called upon the steel industry today to reduce prices "at least $3 a ton."

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee now investigating steel prices said neither U.S. Steel nor Bethlehem Steel had shown in appearances before the subcommittee that more than $3 of last July's $6 a ton price increase was due to higher wages.

Even the wage increases of last summer, Kefauver said in a statement, were "offset in considerable part by the declining price of scrap."

Kefauver said the third quarter financial report of U.S. Steel showed a "substantial decline in production" but record earnings.

"In view of the decline in production, it is unlikely that such an excellent profit showing could have been made unless the price increase of last July had been substantially in excess of the wage increase," he said.

He also suggested a price cut would help the economy by allowing steel-using industries to lower prices, sell more goods and maintain purchasing power and employment.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO? — As a Halloween prank, someone dumped this giant papier-mache lion in the driveway of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wisyanski, 28 Overhill Drive, sometime during the night. The lion earlier in the evening was a feature part of the Monessen Lions Club float in the Halloween parade. Here Mrs. Wisyanski and a neighbor, David Kisic, 2, look at the giant figure.

comic opera effort that might be considered funny if he were not dealing with a matter as important as the mayoralty of Monessen.

Unfortunately, his public statements reveal him as a man to whom constructive thinking is a novelty. He has shown a negative instead of a positive approach to the problems of our City."

"If there were anything about my opponent that might impress me, it would not be his modesty, nor would it be his inordinate ability to jump from one political party to another."

Stieska Statement

In his pre-election statement, Stieska said that a "number of people are showing resentment and credit my opponent only with power to buy the election.

"Many people feel that the myth that he cannot be defeated shall be exploded on election day. The people have the attitude now that 'politics is everybody's business' and this is definitely in my favor.

"I believe that certain events such as his failure to buy the Republican nomination and his successive setbacks in the courts in his frantic efforts to secure this nomination, could be a factor in the outcome of this election."

Stieska went on to say that he has been a "Lonesome Luke in this campaign, doing practically all my own work, and therefore I shall go into this election with no strings attached. If elected, therefore, I shall be unbossed and independent. I shall be answerable only to the people of Monessen who elected me.

Referring to the Parente forces' campaign for voters to vote the straight Democratic ticket, Stieska said it will be "more difficult now since voters are getting better acquainted with voting machines. . . In addition to the fact that many have told me they know this is not a party fight and that the registration figures may not mean too much."

In conclusion, he said he looks for a good turnout of voters" with a coalition of Independent Democrats and Republicans. . . . meaning victory for me."

There will be practically no contests for other City offices since no Republicans filed for them in the May primaries and Democrats won on write-in and stickers.

Winning both nominations were Councilman John Molnar, Treasurer John Spielman and Controller James Tucci.

John Harhai, a former school teacher, ran as an independent Democrat and beat out the administration's candidate, David H. Victoria. William Snyder, who lost the Democratic Councilmanic bid, was successful in the Republican sticker campaign.

Snyder, a registered Democrat, said he feels he has a "moral obligation to those who voted for me" and that is the reason he is stirring up some activity. He said he doesn't expect to win but feels it only proper out of respect to the persons who voted for me last May."

Dr. Joseph M. Dudas Sr. and Emil Beck, registered Democrats won both nominations for School Director.

the record of the county. He said the county crime rate and juvenile delinquency record is one of the best in the state.

He also cited the low tax millage as one of many reasons why new industries and people are settling in Westmoreland County. He mentioned the announcement of the new Westinghouse plant site for the county and said, "these people picked Westmoreland because they are satisfied with the type of government leadership we have here."

Judge David H. Weiss, who is seeking a full 10-year term on the bench after a two month appointment, thanked the group for its support in the past and asked for complete support of the entire slate for the November 5 election. He stated:

"We have been running as a team. If elected as a team, we feel we will be best equipped to serve all the people of Westmoreland County."

Earl S. Keim, candidate for district attorney, renewed his pledge that he will be the district attorney if elected on November 5 and said no group or person will be his boss. He stated:

"These are your candidates. Let's not be complacent on November 5. Let's all go out and work and vote for an All-American victory for an All-American team."

Stephen D. Yoney, candidate for coroner; Howard M. Bricker, candidate for clerk of courts; Leo Sukala, candidate for prothonotary; and Dora M. Dunn, jury commissioner; were also on the speaking program.

The meeting was conducted by Pat McShane, and Jay W. Kromer, campaign chairman, spoke for the party and thanked all workers and campaign leaders. Refreshments and entertainment also featured the huge pep rally and a victory parade concluded the evening.

Blasts Newspapers

A Democratic rally for party workers in Rostraver Twp. and North Belle Vernon provided Judge Edward Bauer with another opportunity this week to level a verbal blast at "some newspapers."

"Th high priests of some of the press let you believe it is a sin to be a Democrat," said Judge Bauer. "They yell about bossism, but they ought to know better about me being bossed. They tried it and couldn't get away with it — and no one will ever boss any of these candidates on this ticket."

The judge also hit at charges of court partiality.

"There isn't any politics in the courts of our county and there couldn't be if anybody wanted it, because the jury has the last word in cases, and there are courts of higher appeal which would not stand for such actions," said Judge Bauer.

Other Westmoreland Democratic candidates spoke at the rally which was held Wednesday in Sweeney's Restaurant.

Independent Rally

Westmoreland County Republican candidates will attend a meeting of "independent" voters at Celapino's Restaurant in Rostraver Twp. tonight beginning at 8 p. m.

The public is invited to attend and ask questions of the candidates.

Segregationist Buy Northern Properties

ATLANTA (UP)—An organization for the resettlement of southern Negroes is making "several transactions" for property in fine residential neighborhoods of the North, according to one of the group's incorporators.

This announcement followed a report Thursday that the American Resettlement Foundation has taken option on a $65,000 residence near the home of Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Washington and put up $3,000 as a binder.

"This is one of several transactions that is getting near the option stage," said Georgia State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr., the foundation's chief organizer. "In every case they (the homes) are the very finest in white residential sections."

Rumor in Chicago

There was a rumor in Chicago that segregationists had purchased a home next door to the residence of Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), a supporter of integration. But an aide said Douglas owns an apartment, not a house, and that the report could not be true.

Fowler revealed Wednesday that an option had been taken on a home, but he declined to name the city. Thursday the Augusta, Ga., Herald reported the residence is in Washington's exclusive Wesley Heights section.

Fowler did not confirm or deny the newspaper's report, but real estate sources in Washington revealed the house is a six-bedroom Tudor home on the same street as Nixon's home and just a few numbers away.

The Washington sources said Mrs. Mary H. Renshaw, a widow, accepted the option but now is "sick" over the matter. She could not be reached for comment.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), a sponsor of the civil rights legislation passed in Congress this year, said resettlement was "sort of forced integration and deplorable . . . but the northern whites cannot complain and should not complain. The northern integrationists must practice what they preach and preach what they practice."

Soviet plans to H-bomb the moon.

—On Nov. 7, which happens to be the 40th anniversary of the Red revolution in Russia, the moon will be full. There'll be precious little dark portion to hit in the days immediately preceding or following that date.

It isn't altogether a question of whether they have propellants capable of driving at least a light rocket the roughly 240,000 miles to the moon. They probably have, and so do we.

The big questions are payload and guidance. Take guidance.

In a shot to the moon, an error of half a degree would mean a miss. But though it went wide of the moon's face, the rocket would get messed up in the moon's gravitational field.

The result would be that the rocket would be whipped around the moon and sent back where it came from—the earth.

Woman Hurt in Route 71 Crash

Elizabeth Pavlo, 28, Van Voorhis, apparently suffered only minor injuries in a two-car crash four miles east of Bentleyville yesterday on Route 71, state police reported.

Reports said the woman motorist attempted to make a left turn from the right traffic lane at the highway when her car collided with a vehicle operated by Chalmer Foor, 34, Bedford.

She received a foot injury. Police said she will be charged with attempting an improper left turn.

MAYOR PARENTE CAN BE BEATEN!

There are 9,000 Registered Democrats in Monessen and 1,000 Registered Republicans, a total of 10,000. At every Election, there are 2,000 Democrats who consistently vote against Mayor Parente, and 2,000 more Democrats, disgusted, don't vote at all.

If these 4,000 Independent Democrats and 1,000 Republicans join forces, they can definitely beat Mayor Parente and all he stands for. They can end the one-man rule in Monessen.

We Heard It— ABOUT the VALLEY

(By The Independent News Staff)

Sounds Far-fetched

It sounds far-fetched, but a Belle Vernon woman swears it's true. It seems this woman's husband asked her to change a $5 bill. She agreed and went for her purse.

However, upon opening her purse, guess what happened. Yep! You guessed it. Out flew a moth.

Steamed-up Truck

Charleroi Halloween parade watchers Wednesday night got more than they bargained for.

A fire truck, in the parade to boost a fund drive for the Charleroi Fire Dept., needed some assistance itself.

The engine became overheated and began to smoke. The parade stopped suddenly while firemen unrolled the hose and refilled the radiator. The parade resumed following the short delay.

Wasn't Impressed

An expectant mother went to Monongahela Memorial Hospital this week for a blood test. Her young son tagged along to watch.

Laboratory technician Harold Weller struck up a conversation with the boy.

"What would you rather have," he asked, "a baby brother or baby sister?"

Without hesitation, the boy replied:

"I'd rather have a pony."

Who Got the Dime?

The Daily Independent supplies coin cards to advertisers in the classified section. This makes it easy to submit remittances.

This week a coin card from Geneva Fisher of Pricedale showed up in the mail with a dollar inside. Enclosed was this notation:

"Here is a dollar. I owe 90 cents. You keep the extra dime for a cup of coffee."

Gives Out Stones

Several employes at a local concern were somewhat surprised when the sanitation man, making his weekly rounds, asked each of them their birthday month and then promptly presented each with his birthstone.

The "gems" — rubies, sapphires, emeralds, etc. — had been discarded by another firm upon completion of a recent promotion effort.

Rather than let the fancy glass go to waste, the sanitation worker decided to scoop up the "gems" and distribute them to his friends.

Will Be First

If Regis Carroll, Democratic candidate for tax collector in Charleroi, is successful on Tuesday, he will be the first Democratic tax collector in Charleroi's history.

Got no Horses

Did you hear the story about the Belle Vernon youngster who was playing in his front yard one day when he was approached by a huckster?

"Say sonny," the huckster said, "ask your mother if she wants to buy any horseradish."

"Aw we don't want any horseradish," the kiddie said, "we ain't got any horses."

Candidates Related

Democrat Howard Bricker and Republican Robert L. Kunkle — opposing candidates for Westmoreland County Clerk of Courts in next Tuesday's election — are hardly strangers.

As a matter of fact, Kunkle married Bricker's sister, which makes them brothers-in-law!

"We have spent many hours discussing politics," reveals Kunkle. "But we agreed not to speak to each other during the campaign. We'll start talking again next Wednesday."

Floats Make News

The floats made the big news in last night's Halloween parade in Monessen.

There was a bit of drama when the Monessen High Cheerleaders float reached Sixth St. and Donner Ave. Spotting football coach Armand Niccolai, the cheerleaders stopped their float, pulled Niccolai out of the crowd and saw to it that he rode with them over the remainder of the parade route. There was no doubt about the girls' loyalty.

A somewhat similar incident happened earlier in the parade. The men on the Lions float noticed that a mother and her daughter, marching in costume, were tiring. They invited both of them to ride the rest of the way guests of the Lions.

But the real human interest angle concerned the float of the District Improvement Council. After spending a reported $200 on decorations, the DIC was unable to get the float into the parade when the carrier developed motor trouble!

Knights of Columbus Purchases Property Near the City Park

The Monessen Knights of Columbus Council 954 today announced the purchase of about an acre of property on Grand Blvd. near the main City Park entrance on which they intend to have a new and modern Council home.

The reported purchase price of the property, which includes a two-story brick combination grocery store and apartment building, was $36,000.

Louis J. Smith, grand knight, said the Council will take over the property formerly owned by George Petro today. They will remodel the interior of the store and use it for meetings until the club's rebuilding program is completed.

Smith said the Council has taken "a most important step towards realizing our supreme aim — a new beautiful home that will be the pride of every knight in the Council. As time goes by, the property will be remodeled and beautified with shrubbery and a lawn."

He also said the Council intends to erect a religious grotto on the property.

When the project is completed, Smith stated, it will be made available for all Catholic organizations in the City, "making it a central Catholic Center."

The Council hopes to finance the project by selling bonds in $100, $250 and $500 denominations and redeemable in 20 years. Percy Moussiaux is building fund chairman.

Moussiaux said the solicitation will begin within three weeks.

The local Council was founded over 50 years ago. Starting out with just a few members, the membership now totals 247 men.

Since its founding the Council has had club rooms at various places in the city. For the past 10 years it has used the former St. Cajetan Church building at Eighth St. and Donner Ave.

NAACP Facing Stiff Fines In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Police have been instructed by the city council to start arresting officers of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today for failure to bare the organization's records.

Thursday night was the deadline for compliance with a new city ordinance requiring "certain organizations" to give financial and membership information to the city.

A suit testing the constitutionality of the ordinance, proposed by Attorney General Bruce Bennett, has been filed in federal court by the NAACP.

Bennett said the city would use the ordinance to determine if the NAACP and other similar groups are subject to city franchise and privilege tax.

City attorney O.D. Longstreth also pointed out that under the ordinance "we can fine them up to $250 per day for every day they fail to give us what is asked."

Only two NAACP officers were expected to be arrested, and one of them is out of state. NAACP Arkansas Chapter President Mrs. L.C. Bates is in New York and not due back until Monday.

The other official is Rev. Jesse Crenshaw, president of the Little Rock branch.

"The South hasn't been using the state courts enough," Bennett said.

26 High Schools In CSTC Speech Event Tomorrow

Twenty-six high schools including Monessen have accepted invitations to participate in the second annual speech tournament to be held at California State Teachers College tomorrow.

Activities are scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Contest categories include poetry reading, oratory, original oration, dramatic reading, humorous reading, girls extemporaneous speaking, and boys extemporaneous speaking.

Cups or ribbons will be presented to each first second, and third place winner. Winners will be announced over Radio Station WESA, Charleroi on Sunday, at 2:30 p.m.

The tournament is sponsored by the College Players under the direction of Miss Louise Davis, assistant professor of speech at the college. Carolyn Ghrist, a senior from Claysville, is president of the organization.

Participating high schools are Blairsville, Immaculate Conception, Baldwin, St. Wendelin, Braddock, St. Vincents Prep, Oakmont, Avonworth, Trafford, McKeesport, California Community, St. Xavier Academy, Centerville, Monessen, St. John, Irwin, Greensburg, Penn Joint, Lock Haven, Elizabeth Seton, Bentleyville, Donora, Derry Area Joint, Jeannette, Mt. Pleasant, Hurst, and Hempfield.

Asking for Divorce

Jesse Pierce Jr., Monessen, has filed a divorce complaint in Westmoreland County court against Nora L. Pierce, charging idignities. They were married in Pricedale on January 28, 1949.

Lions in Cooking Festival

On Wednesday, Nov 20, the Monessen Lions Club in conjunction with the Peoples Natural Gas Co. will sponsor a holiday festival of cooking at the High School auditorium. "Mrs. Pennsylvania" will make a personal appearance and prizes including a stove will be awarded.

Plans for this event were discussed at a meeting conducted by Daniel Salotti, president, last night at the Slovak Home following dinner.

Members were asked to cooperate with the convention committee in raising funds for the state and national convention delegates.

Paul Lucas, chairman of the chest X-ray project, announced that 1457 persons were X-rayed during the three day stay of the unit. George A. Stofka, secretary, reported on a recent session of the club.

Kiddies Show

Andrew Dolinsky, chairman of the annual kiddie show, announced all plans are complete for this project on Sat, Nov. 30, at the Manos Theatre. Children will be admitted to the show for one can of food. The food will then be used for the Lions Christmas basket project.

Salotti reported that the 10th annual charter night will be observed at Twin Coaches on Nov. 14. Liberace will be featured on the floor show.

New members inducted last night were Roy DeRocco, John Dropp, John Spielman, John Simkanich, Andrew Dzurinko, Andrew Seykoski, Nick Zoretich and Thomas Janosik. Edward Lhota spoke to the men on "Lionism."

Frank Arnoldi, Mike Young and John Maise represented the Pony baseball League at the session. and as coaches accepted the championship trophy.

Julio Gellio was song leader, and John Lancas asked the invocation.

Prize Winners in Bridge Tournament

Three Monessen women were prize winners last night at the meeting of the Magic City Bridge Club held at the Charleroi Elks. Mrs. Robert C. Jones, Mary Valenson and Mrs. Lewis Fisher.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Catherine Cunningham of Belle Vernon were first in the east-west division and Mary Valenson and Mrs. Fisher were second.

In north-south play there was a tie for first place between Mrs. Alice Fiscus of Charleroi, Mrs. Martha Breese of Washington and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Feeney of Brookline.

The ink that is used to stamp labels on inspected meat is made from the skin of dark grapes.

Rules for Nursery School

Preliminary rules governing admission to the Nursery School for Handicapped Children in Greensburg were announced today by Mrs. Franklin Hockensmith, the Society's Activities Committee Chairman.

Children shall be in the age group between 3 and 6 years.

Each child shall be admitted with the approval of the Society's Medical Advisory Group.

Each child shall be enrolled for a two months' trial period to ascertain his readiness for and the benefits he may receive from the nursery school training.

Any child will be dismissed if absent for five consecutive periods without cause.

Enrollment in a class will be limited to 10 children.

No child will be admitted who is severely retarded mentally.

Transportation to and from the school must be arranged by the parents.

The Westmoreland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults has engaged Mrs. Mabel O'Halloran as instructor for the Nursery School and in addition thereto volunteer workers will assist in the program. Classes are planned for Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. beginning next Friday. Anyone who has an interest in this program may secure information by calling the Society's office, Greensburg 6313.

Boy Scout Troop To Seed Lawn

Boy Scout Troop 5 has inaugurated a new conservation project, planting and seeding the lawn in front of Memorial Civic Center, Monessen.

Scoutmaster George Bonari was assisted in starting this project by Ronald Godla, Joe Feehan, Leonard Gladys, Gary Bello, David Daly, Errol Cutter, Matt Kasper, Bill Tweardy and John Tweardy.

Bonari announced that the lawn should be in good condition for next spring.

Crucible Gets Coal Reserves

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP) — Crucible Steel Co. today announced the acquisition of rights to more than 15,000 acres of additional coal reserves at nearby Hugheston.

The acreage, located on the Kanawha River, is expected to yield in excess of 20 million tons of No. 2 gas seam high volatile metallurgical coal, the Pennsylvania firm said.

Based on Crucible's present rate of consumption, the newly acquired tonnage along with present holdings makes available at least a 40-year supply for the company. This more than doubles its previous coal reserves.

Pittsburgh Steel Office Manager

Andrew Gregg Scott today was named manager of Pittsburgh Steel Co's district sales office in Detroit, Mich.

For the past 12 years, Scott has served as assistant manager of the office. He replaced R. F. Derr, who has resigned.

'Yes' Votes Needed For the Library

THE BOND issue for a new public library building, on which the people of Monessen will vote next Tuesday, represents one of the most significant steps ever taken in this city.

There seems to be a remarkable unanimity of public sentiment in favor of the bond issue. Virtually every articulate and representative voice in the city has spoken in favor of it No opposition, certainly none of an organized nature, has been heard.

If we are appraising the sentiment correctly on the eve of the election, it does great credit to the people of Monessen. Many communities much older and presumably more sophisticated do not embrace worthwhile additions to their cultural life with the warmth and anticipation which seem to have surrounded the library proposal here.

We would like, however, to inject a word of caution. The fulfillment of this splendid project depends upon the voters going to their polling places next Tuesday and voting "Yes" on the library question. Without these "Yes" votes, all the endorsements you can stretch from here to there will be of no help.

Monessen needs this library — that has been demonstrated to everybody's satisfaction in recent weeks. Monessen can well afford it — the city's bonded debt is only about $450,000 whereas the legal limit is about $2 million more than that. The bond issue is for $200,000.

The plan under which the present library, operated by the Civic Library Association, will be converted to a municipal operation once the bond issue is approved is a practical, sensible means of providing adequate library service.

This project is worthy in every respect of the support of the voters. We hope they will vote "Yes" in overwhelming numbers.

Another View

THE SENATE investigating committee in recent days has been giving the nation a look at still another aspect of labor-management relations as they have been conducted by some segments of labor, business and industry. And in some respects, this view is even more ugly and disgusting than what the committee revealed about the Teamsters Union.

The new revelations have concerned mainly the operations of Nathan Shefferman of Chicago who apparently has done a thriving business as what he calls a "consultant".

The country first heard of Shefferman when Dave Beck was the focus of the committee's attention and it was revealed that Shefferman had functioned as personal "purchasing agent" for Beck, buying at large discounts everything from nylon stockings to fancy shirts and household appliances. Beck, you recall, lives quite comfortably, and Shefferman has helped him.

But Shefferman is nothing if not versatile. If you want a union busted, it seems, he's at your service — for a fee. And if a union wants a company busted, he can help with that, too. Or if a company wants to make a quiet deal with some union officers including some substantial payments on the side, Shefferman is the fellow to see.

"Consulting" does not seem to be quite the word for this sort of thing, does it?

What comes as a particular disappointment in the testimony before the committee is that a company of the standing of Sears, Roebuck would be caught doing business with a man like Shefferman. And it does not seem to us to be an adequate explanation that Sears felt it had to have this kind of service in order to survive.

It is coming to be plain as the investigation proceeds that it often takes two sides to make an off-color arrangement in labor-management relations. And the victim is usually the silent, faceless, dues-paying union member who thought he was getting honest representation but was often getting only the well known "business".

Concern Is Proper

PRESIDENT Eisenhower's decision to attend a meeting of the NATO Council in Paris in December will do much to reassure the free world that the United States is holding a steady course and will accept whatever responsibilities are involved in defending freedom.

Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have been subjected to a great deal of criticism here at home in recent weeks. Much of this has been patently political and undeserved. Some of it has played right into the hands of the Russian propagandists who have been trying to use Sputnik, the satellite, as a goblin to give the free world the jitters.

But the country is bound to be concerned about the relative strengths of the free and the Communist worlds. It wants to be sure that our arrangements with our allies for mutual security are proper and sufficient. And it wants to be sure also that we maintain overall technological superiority.

President Eisenhower's leadership is an essential factor in all of this. And no man could be better equipped, both by experience and natural endowment, to provide the kind of leadership that is needed.

From Washington—

Khrushchev Repudiates Khrushchev

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

On Feb 25, 1956, Nikita Khrushchev delivered to the 20th Congress of the Communist party his famous six-hour speech excoriating the purge-ridden regime of Stalin and proclaiming the end of one-man dictatorship in the Kremlin for all time.

Mr. Drummond

1957 "Pravda," the Soviet government's official organ, reported casually the removal as Minister of Defense of the second most powerful leader in the USSR, Marsnall Georgi Zhukov.

It is revealing, I think, to look at what's happening in the struggle for personal power within the Soviet Union in terms of Khrushchev's solemn oath that it would not happen again, that the "cult of the individual" — which he branded as evil — was being put aside like strong drink and would never return

Scored Stalin

Khrushchev put it this way when he thought that the only way to preserve his own power was to foreswear one-man rule

"We must preclude any possibility of a repetition in any form whatever of what took place during the life of Stalin who absolutely did not tolerate collegiality in leadership and in work and who practised brutal violence against anyone who opposed him"

As he warmed to his theme that one-man dictatorship is a violation of everything Marxism-Leninism stands for, Khrushchev added:

"Stalin acted not through persuasion, explanation and patient co-operation but demanded absolute submission to his opinion. Whoever opposed (Stalin's) concepts and tried to prove his own viewpoint and the correctness of his position, was doomed to removal from the leading collective and to subsequent moral and physical annihilation."

And now has Khrushchev acted? How has Khrushchev dealt with those who opposed him The record is visible.

Well . .

Beria Was Shot

One who opposed the Khrushchev rule, Lavrentia Beria, once head of the security police, suffered "physical annihilation." His life came to an end He was shot.

Another who opposed him, Premier Georgi Malenkov suffered "moral annihilation." He was deposed as premier and later was shoved 39 steps down the ladder to keeping shop at a hydro-electric plant in far-off East Kazakhstan.

That's what happened to Beria and Malenkov when they tried to "prove their viewpoint and the correctness of their position" at a time Khrushchev wanted it otherwise.

And Molotov dissented. . . and Kaganovich dissented. . . and Shepilov dissented

They are now branded by Khrushchev as moral enemies of the state, banished to remote, minor posts where they can do no harm and no good.

Another Gem

Here is another Khrushchev gem from his anti-cult-of-the-individual speech:

"All the more shame was the fact that after our great victory over the enemy (Hitler) which cost us so much, Stalin began to downgrade many of the commanders who contributed so much to the victory."

And what has happened to the commander whom the whole Russian people look upon as contributing most to victory?

The name is Marshal Zhukov and the Moscow dispatches appear now to be unanimous that he is being downgraded the second time; once by Stalin and now by Khruschev.

It seems to me that Khrushchev's actions show better than his words what he really thinks of Stalin; he copies him.

Dictatorship Seen

The power struggle may turn out differently than it even now appears But it really doesn't matter much because it is evident that the end-result, whether it is Khrushchev or someone else, is the return of one-man dictatorship at the top of the Kremlin.

In his speech Khrushchev recalled saying to Stalin: "I have known Zhukov for a long time, he is good. . ."

Iron Ore Decision Questioned

By DREW PEARSON

MINNEAPOLIS — A lawsuit which will mean millions to the school children of Minnesota or millions to eastern iron and steel companies operating in Minnesota has just been decided by the state Supreme Court against the school children.

Mr. Pearson

This writer, visiting in Minnesota, unearthed the fact that the jurist who wrote the opinion, Judge Clarence R Magney, sold a 48-acre plot of land for an unspecified, though reportedly large, price to one of the mining companies benefiting from the decision he wrote

The transaction took place under unusual circumstances in that no federal stamps were affixed to the deed. This is against the law. The affixing of the federal stamps would have shown how much the Judge was paid for the property.

There were other unusual facts. Judge Magney retired from the Minnesota Supreme Court in 1953. He is no longer active, but is subject to recall. In the spring of this year he was traveling in Europe but was recalled to Minnesota to handle this vitally important case to decide who owns the iron, taconite, and other ore beds under Minnesota's lakes.

In a state which boasts that it is the "Land O'Lakes" and in which many of the 10,000 lakes have ore underneath, this is the most important decision in years. The iron and steel companies claim that the ore belongs to the owners of the lake shore; the state claims that the ore under the lake bed belongs to the state. It has now called for a rehearing.

No Stamps

To decide this vital question, a retired judge who had sold land for an unrecorded amount to Erie Mining Co. was called back from Europe to write the opinion His opinion upheld the iron and steel companies, and the Supreme Court adopted his opinion.

To get the facts I first queried Ray Sjoberg, Recorder of Deeds in Grand Marais, Cook County. He verified the fact that Clarence R. Magney had sold Lot 1, Section 12, and Lot 4, Section 1, in Township 58 5 West — a little over 48 acres — to the Erie Mining Co., on Sept. 29, 1951, and that the deed was recorded on Oct. 15, 1951. The land is located near the town of Taconite.

"Are any federal stamps attached?" I asked

"No." Mr. Sjoberg replied.

"Isn't that unusual?"

"Yes, the federal law requires $1.10 in stamps for every $1,000 paid for the property."

"What do you do when no federal stamps are attached?"

"I ask 'em for the stamps," said Mr. Sjoberg "but this was mailed in."

"Who mailed it in?"

"I've forgotten exactly, but a lawyer in Duluth who handles deeds for these companies"

Judge Declines Comment

I next tried to locate Judge Magney, finally reached him in Duluth.

"In fairness to you, I should like to get your explanation of why you sat on the Rabbit Lake case when you sold two tracts of land to the Erie Mining Co.," I said. "Why were you called back from Europe to handle this case?"

"This case is before the court and I am not commenting," the Judge replied.

"Do you wish to say how much you were paid for the land you sold to Erie Mining?"

"I have no comment."

"I understand you were paid a very large sum of money, which is why no federal tax stamps were attached to the deed?"

"I am not commenting."

"You don't care to tell me how much you were paid?"

"The case is still before the court and I am not going to make any comment."

Who Owned Erie Mining?

I next checked the records of mining companies in the Minnesota Office of Mines and Minerals. I found that Erie Mining, which had paid Judge Magney an unrecorded amount for his land, is owned by Bethlehem Steel 45 per cent, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 35 per cent, Interlake Iron 10 per cent, and Steel Company of Canada, Lt., 10 per cent

The ore in litigation under the Rabbit Lake chain I found to be owned by Youngstown Mines. It is being mined by Pick and Smather, who also serve as agents for Erie Mining Co. in mining its taconite. This indicated a close working arrangement between Erie Mining and the Rabbit Lake ore which the Judge ruled should go to the steel companies, not the State of Minnesota

However, the trail led even closer. Youngstown Mines, I found, is 100 per cent owned by Youngstown Sheet and Tube, which in turn is a 35-per-cent owner of Erie Mining. Since Bethlehem Steel owns 45 per cent of Erie, and since Bethlehem and Youngstown are so close that they are litigating with the Justice Department for the right to amalgamate, this nails Erie Mining as having a direct pecuniary interest in the ore under the Rabbit Lake chain.

NOTE — Under Minnesota legal precedent, State vs. Ketterer 1955, no judge shall hear a case if a litigant has reason to believe he is biased or prejudiced, when another judge is available. Judge Magney was called back from Europe to handle this case. Minnesota statute 542.13 also specifies: "No judge shall sit in any case. . . if he is interested in its determination." Minnesota legal precedent, Weidemann, also states: "In the administration of justice, it is not only requisite that a judge should be honest, unbiased, impartial, and disinterested in fact, but equally essential that all doubt and suspicion to the contrary should be jealously guarded against and eliminated. Not only is it the duty of a judge to render a righteous judgment, but it is of transcendent importence to the litigants and the public generally that there should not be the slightest suspicion as to his fairness and integrity."

Russia Goads NATO Into Tighter Alliance

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Soviet Russia has finally goaded the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into tightening up their alliance.

Mr. McCann

The plan to hold a meeting of heads of government of the 15 NATO members in Paris in December is an effective answer to Russia's long campaign of bluster and brag.

Russia's campaign started last November at the time of the Suez Canal crisis.

It reached its climax in the amazing propaganda campaign in which Russia accused the United States and Turkey of plotting to invade Syria.

But the deciding factors were Moscow's announcement of the successful testing of an intercontinental ballistic missile and the launching of the Sputnik earth satellite.

Asked Big Four Meeting

During all this long campaign, Russia interspersed its threats and boasts with demands for a Big Four "summit" conference in which President Eisenhower would meet Soviet Premier Nikolai A Bulganin, Communist chieftain Nikita S. Khrushchev and the prime ministers of Great Britain and France.

The Russians also angled vainly for an invitation to Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, now deposed as Soviet defense minister, to visit his wartime friend Eisenhower in Washington.

The NATO alliance was formed in 1949, when the threat of Russian aggression that would start a third world war seemed imminent

It was extended until it included 15 countries, stretching from Norway through Western Europe to Turkey in addition to the United States and Canada in the western hemisphere.

Suez Crisis Costly

But as the threat of war diminished, the ties between the 15 allies loosened, and relations between the United States and its two chief allies were weakened seriously by the British - French invasion of the Suez Canal last November.

Bulganin started the campaign of threats when, in letters to the prime ministers of Britain and France, he said Russia was determined to use force if necessary unless they called off their invasion of the canal This direct, open threat was softened later by a Moscow spokesman who said Bulganin meant the use of force through the United Nations.

Bulganin continued the campaign with a series of letters to NATO members from Norway to Turkey threatening them with destruction if they permitted the establishment of nuclear weapons bases on their territory

Finally came the rise of pro-Russian elements to power in Syria, the ICBM announcement Sputnik, and the allegations of a U S -Turkish plot against Syria.

The big NATO meeting planned for December 16, 17 and 18 will be the first of its importance since NATO was formed 8 1-2 years ago.

Normally foreign ministers represent their countries at NATO meetings Now, thanks to Russia, there is going to be a "summit" meeting which the Soviet government wanted.

The Woman's View—

Stewardesses Return From Antarctic Run

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Well, what's the modern military man coming to!

Two pretty girls pioneered a trip to Antarctica and the 301 stationed there, many of them as long as 18 months, didn't even whistle.

"They were more like home town boys," said Patricia Hepinstall, 25, and Ruth Kelly, 28, airline stewardesses just returned from a 19,350-mile round trip flight to McMurdo Sound, the principal American military base in Antarctica. The girls were only 850 miles from the South Pole, the farthest into the land of deep freeze woman ever has traveled.

Gay Pauley

Miss Kelly is five feet, seven inches tall, blonde, blue-eyed, a graduate of Northwestern University and a former schoolmarm from Holyoke, Colo Miss Hepinstall, who is from Houston, Tex., is a tall brunette, a graduate of Southern Methodist University, and a one-time fashion model.

Pioneers With Charm

They were selected to cook and serve meals on the first commercial flight into the Antarctic because, as a spokesman for their employer, Pan American World Airways, put it:

"Take one look at both of them and you see why, don't you?"

The flight was a Navy charter, carrying 37 Seabees to McMurdo to relieve others on duty from 6 to 18 months

Now, the stewardesses head for the North Pole—first to London, then working a flight back by way of the Pole to San Francisco, their home base

The two were in McMurdo only three and a half hours, but the men planned a busy program.

Seabees Plan Full Program

"You could tell they'd worked on our welcome for weeks," said Miss Kelly. The Seabees treated the girls to a dogsled race, a tour of the base, and had them judge a beard contest. Categories in the latter were pretty extensive — including the longest thatch, the beard with the most sex appeal, the bushiest, and the one with the finest texture ("pretty obvious, that category," said Miss Kelly. "You know . . . woman's touch.")

They returned with penguin feather souvenirs, sealskin key cases, scrolls naming them "Queen of the Antarctic Seabees" and cards giving them lifetime membership in the "Royal Order of the Deep Freeze"

This is the "warm" season for the Antarctic. It was only 16 below zero when the plane landed. But the two girls wore navy-issue cold weather gear anyway: padded jackets and trousers, parkas with fur hoods, windbreakers, padded gloves, high boots, wool stockings

At the White House—

Complications for Ike

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Backstairs at the White House:

There will be innumerable complications when President Eisenhower goes to the mid-December meeting of NATO in Paris.

December usually is about the busiest month of the year for the Chief Executive; the month in which he usually confers with legislative leaders of both parties about the upcoming session of Congress; the month in which he labors over final drafts of his State of the Union and budget messages, plus an annual economic message and a series of other communications for Congress on special subjects.

The legislative conferences, if the President goes to Paris, must of necessity be held in early December. The bulk of the big messages are written by other people, but the President still must review them and order changes.

Another complication: Can the President visit Paris without dropping off in London to return the recent visit of Queen Elizabeth II? And can he go to Paris and London without visiting Rome, Bonn and possibly some of the Scandinavian countries?

It seems out of the question now that the President would undertake a grand tour of Europe this December, but these questions still arise. He might be able to pass up all stops but Paris by the fact that he undoubtedly would meet all the working heads of NATO states at the conference itself.

That, however, would be no substitute in the minds of many people for a return visit to the British queen.

Presumably the NATO meeting would require the President's presence for about three days. A visit to London hardly could take less Add two days of flying time to and from the United States and the President would have an eight-day trip involving only London and Paris.

The Chief Executive doesn't have to worry about doing his own Christmas shopping. That is done for him. But what about the people who work for and around him? They'll have to do their shopping at the Washington National Airport or the gift shop nearest their Paris hotel.

Mrs. Raymond L. Sitkowski
(Betty Ann Gnoth)

Betty Ann Gnoth Is Bride Of Raymond L. Sitkowski

Betty Ann Gnoth, daughter of Joseph Gnoth of 431 McKean Ave., Charleroi, became the bride of Raymond L. Sitkowski on Saturday, Oct. 26. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sitkowski, 129 Elm St.

The lines of the double ring ceremony were read in St. Leonard Roman Catholic Church at 10:30 in the morning. The Rev. J. L. Conway officiated before the flower decked altar.

The bride approached the altar d on the crash lined aisle on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. The family pews were indicated with white satin bows.

A white full length gown of net and Chantilly lace was chosen by the bride for her attire. It was styled with fitted bodice, long lace sleeves and a lace collar to emphasize the boat neckline. The skirt was full and fashioned of net and lace. A Chantilly lace crown sprinkled with pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid tied with white ribbon.

Honor Attendant

Matron of honor was Mrs. Irene Veschio, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a blue ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and net. She chose a matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaid was Mary Ann Trussa of Charleroi. Her ensemble was of yellow lace and net with a matching headpiece and a bouquet of pink roses.

Serving as flower girl was Paulette Kozemchak, niece of the bridegroom, from Monongahela. She wore a yellow gown of brocaded taffeta with a net overskirt. She had a flowered headpiece and carried a basket of flowers.

Best man was Walter Sitkowski, brother of the bridegroom, of Fairless Hills. Usher was William Veschio.

Serving as ring bearer was Walter Sitkowski Jr. of Fairless Hills, nephew of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue lace dress with a soft chiffon back panel. Her accessories were black and corsage was red roses.

Reception Held

A wedding breakfast and dinner were held at the Polish Hall on Knox Ave. In the evening there was a reception there for about 400 guests. The four tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table.

Mr. Sitkowski and his bride will leave this week for California state to make their home there temporarily. He is a private first class in the U.S. Army and is stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif. He is a Monessen High School graduate.

The new Mrs. Sitkowski was graduated from Charleroi High School and was employed in Charleroi at the Sun Drug Store.

Guests attended from Chicago, McKeesport, Fairless Hills, New Kensington, Tarentum, Donora, Yukon, West Newton, Youngwood, Irwin, Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela and Elizabeth.

Sholtis-Roscoe Nuptials Take Place Oct. 12

Exchanging vows on Saturday, Oct. 12, in St. Peter's Lutheran Church of Uniontown, were Mary Sholtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sholtis of Perryopolis, and William E. Roscoe, son of Jacob J. Roscoe of Uniontown.

Officiating at the 3:30 p.m. ceremony was the Rev. Andrew Tomo. For the occasion white gladiolus decorated the church altar. Mrs. Andrew Tomo provided the nuptial music.

The parents of the bride were witnesses for the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and net with a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was white orchids and chrysanthemums.

When the couple left for a trip to Cleveland the bride was wearing a green dress with an orchid corsage.

The bride is employed in Uniontown and her husband is self employed. He served in World War Two.

Duboy-Novak Marriage Is Announced

Solemnized in St. John the Baptist Roman Catholic Church of Perryopolis on Saturday morning, Oct. 26, was the marriage of Constance Julia Duboy and F. Robert Novak.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duboy of Leisenring No. 1, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Novak, Perryopolis.

The Rev. John Stofcik officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was read before an altar decorated with ferns, palms and fuji mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor length gown of white taffeta and lace fashioned with a sabrina neckline, long tapering sleeves and bouffant skirt, which ended in a chapel train. A heart shaped plateau of lace and seed pearls held in place a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of fuji mums with a crystal rosary, a gift from her parents.

Honor Attendent

Mrs. Edward Kisiel of Natrona Heights, matron of honor, was attired in a floor length gown of gold taffeta styled with a Babrina neckline, cap sleeves and full skirt accented with a butterfly bow in the back. Completing her ensemble was a flowered tiara and a cascade of bronze fuji mums.

Bridesmaids were Theresa Karaffa and Marie Frances Brach, both of Leisenring. They were identically attired in emerald green taffeta gowns and matching tiaras, and carried cascades of bronze fuji mums.

Best man was Edward Kisiel, Natrona Heights, and the ushers were Daniel Mazzocco, Perryopolis, and Thomas Novak, Detroit, Mich., brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a starlight blue crepe dress, mauve pink hat, pink accessories and a pink rose corsage. Mrs. Novak, mother of the bridegroom, wore a taupe shade wool suit with fox fur trim, dark brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Wedding Breakfast

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home after the ceremony and in the evening there was a reception for 250 guests at St. Stephen's Hall in Leisenring. A four tiered wedding cake centered the table.

The bride was wearing a beige jersey sheath dress, black accessories, white fur hat and red rose corsage, when the couple left for a trip to the Pocono Mountains.

The bride was graduated from Dunbar High School with the class of 1949, and Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Pittsburgh, in 1953. She is presently on the staff at Connellsville Hospital.

Mr. Novak was graduated from Perry Twp. High School, served in the U. S. Army, and is employed by the Union Railroad Co. at Clairton plant of the U. S. Steel Co.

Ben Franklin School Students Have Party

The Children of Ben Franklin School held a Halloween party yesterday afternoon at school. All the children came in Halloween costume and paraded around the school grounds before a large crowd of parents and friends.

A treat was distributed by the homeroom mothers, who also acted as judges for the costumes.

Winning awards for the prettiest and most original attire were Germaine Rozycki and Denise Demko.

Games were played to conclude the affair.

Lizbeth Robins Class Members Are Entertained

A meeting of the Lizbeth Robins Class of the First Methodist Church was held last night at the home of Mrs. Catherine Bond, Grand Blvd. Mrs. Sara Day, president, was in charge and Eva Griffith was devotional leader.

Mrs. Elizabeth Derby was acting secretary-treasurer in the absence of Mrs. Lois Dial. The prize brought by Mrs. Day was won by Mrs. Derby.

Mrs. Harold Robins of Lynnwood was a guest.

Luncheon was served, and plans were announced for a white elephant sale when the club meets at the home of Catherine Huscroft at 580 Schoonmaker Ave. on Nov. 21.

UN Visitors Return Home

Local and district women have returned after spending a few days in New York visiting the United Nations. Mrs. Richard Pemberton and Mrs. Marvin Doman of the First Methodist Church of Monessen; Mrs. Kenneth Beazell and Mrs. E.C. Kearns of First Methodist Church of Belle Vernon; and Mrs. W. S. VanRyn of Fells Methodist Church were in the group.

The area women were part of a 62 woman party making the trip under the sponsorship of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Pittsburgh Conference of Methodist Churches.

The party left Pittsburgh by train at 7:20 Monday morning, and was registered at the Victoria Hotel. All day Tuesday and part of Wednesday they spent at UN headquarters. After the guided tour of the building they attended sessions of the Security Council and other special programs.

Members of the UN staff addressed meetings of the delegation including Mrs. Grace Holmes Barbey, a member of the UN secretariat. She talked mainly on the function of UNICEF — United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, which was aided all over the country during the Halloween season.

Hear Speaker

On Wednesday at the Methodist building at 150 Fifth Ave. the women attended a special program at which J. Fegley, of the Commission of Churches on International Affairs, spoke.

UN staff members from India and other foreign countries also addressed the group explaining technicalities of operation in regard to their own countries.

Many of the women took part in sightseeing trips to points of interest in New York.

On Wednesday evening the women boarded the train for Pittsburgh, and they arrived home yesterday.

ON THE BALL

By CLAIR BROWN

Story Recalls Niccolai's Exploits

Armand Niccolai, Monessen High grid coach, was mentioned prominently in an article appearing in a Pittsburgh newspaper concerning the apathy of the Pitsburgh Steelers in not finding a place-kicker . . . The article recalls that when Nick played for the Steelers from 1934 through 1942 he twice tied for the league lead in field goals, once holding the season record several years prior to the "Groza Age" . . . Even today Big Nick could kick them from anywhere inside the 40 without too much difficulty . . . Bill Dudley and Joe Glamp were more recent Steeler booters who had more than their share of kicking success but since then the Rooneymen have drawn a blank.

Bud Roman, local sports official, and Red Midway, of New Eagle, refereed the Grove City-Frostburg Teachers College soccer game at Slippery Rock the other day which the unbeaten Slippers won 5-0 over the Maryland team . . . Lou Kichinko, our press pal, was along on the trip to the booting match but when the soccer tilt was over and the arbiters found their traveling companion was nowhere in sight until they glanced to an adjoining field where a girl's field hockey tilt was in progress and there stood Lou . . . He's a new grandfather, by the way, and since its a girl perhaps that was his reason for his interest in the female sport . . . ahem! . . . Incidentally, Slippery Rock is the alma mater of Vern DeMillion, 'Hound grid equipment custodian.

Enrollment Drop for Clairton High?

According to a reliable valley source, Clairton High School's enrollment will drop by 600 students next season, because of a new Jefferson High School near Clairton . . . The current enrollment at the down-river school is 1500 students so the 600 loss will still keep the Bears on a par with Monongahela Valley schools . . . Clairton would like to compete in the Mon Valley Conference and the conference would like to have the Bears so it seems very likely that as soon as schedule arrangements can be made the Bears will join the valley schools to form another Big Six.

* * *

Tommy Henrich, the former Yankee great, who got his baseball start in Monessen, has resigned as a New York Giant coach, joining a long list of major league coaches who have either resigned or been bounced . . . The most surprising was the cutting of two Milwaukee coaches despite having a pennant winner . . . The Pirates need a coaching replacement for Clyde Sukeforth who has decided to call it quits . . . Hated to see where Chuck Mather had resigned as Kansas U. grid mentor . . . Chuck, while head coach at Massillon High, the Ohio powerhouse, (before he went to Kansas) was a guest at the Big Six banquet a few years back and struck everyone there as a fine fellow impressing district coaches with his knowledge of the game . . . Speaking of the big valley banquet, you'll be hearing quite a bit about it soon.

Pitt - State Revive Turkey Day Tilt

Penn State and Pitt will return to their annual Thanksgiving Day game in 1958 . . . The Turkey Day game between the Pitts and Lions used to be an annual afafir but both schools got away from playing other than Saturday games except for Friday tilts away from home with such teams as Miami, Oregon, etc. . . . Some controversy has arisen over whether high school (WPIAL) teams can play games after Nov. 23 and despite the fact that this writer checked with Connellsville Principal Dolde, head of the schoolboy league and wrote here that he said the schools could play after Nov. 23 but their games would not be considered for WPIAL title contention . . . We'll repeat his quote, "I don't care if the teams play until Christmas, if they don't want the games counted toward a title or if they are not in title contention." . . . OK?

Today's Sports Parade-

Leps, Snakes, Tigers Chinese Golf Hazards

By OSCAR FRALEY

HONG KONG (UP)— The guy who claimed that golf was a sissy game never played at the Royal Hong Kong Golf Club

This may explain why a handsome moustached man named Kim Hall is colony champion for the second straight year Because Kim was shot up and down over Trieste and he long ago learned that fear is a no-time thing.

As for Old Fearless, you may now refer to me as Old Fearful.

Because this is a course where leopards, cobras, tigers, bamboo sankes, guerrilla warfare, camouflaged soldiers, rumbling tanks and galloping horses are no more rare than double bogeys on the Fraley scorecard.

"Don't be surprised if we see a leopard," Kim said casually as he sent a tee shot whistling straight down the middle. "There's supposed to be one loose around here right now. Down from South China mountains y'know."

I did not know or I wouldn't have come.

"Nice straight tee shot," I quavered, spraying one into the rough

Beware of Snakes

"You have to be straight here," he replied. "Lots of snakes in the rough y'know."

I hadn't known. I hit a "Mulligan."

Finally on the fairway I saw my ball laying atop a small hole and suggested that under winter rules I should be able to move it.

"By all means," Kim said. "But do it carefully. That's a bamboo snake hole and if one of those nips you, you're gone in three hours y'know."

I didn't know. But I was almost gone right then—back to the clubhouse.

Up ahead it looked as if there was a small clump of bushes screening the green. My harried approach shot made straight for the bushes — but the bushes moved aside. I rubbed my eyes.

"Yes, they moved," Kim chuckled. "It's troops practicing camouflage wear. They do that all the time around here. If they hadn't seen you, your ball probably would have made 'ping' when it hit one of their helmets."

I hurried forward to apologize to the "bushes" but they melted into a glade of trees and I saw they had screened a sandtrap. And there, so help me, was the ball—with a cobra sitting on it like a hen hatching an egg.

"You get a free lift in a case like this," said Kim. "Only thing is you have to lift the snake first."

Tank Rolls On Green

Playing a new ball, Ole Fearless dribbled it into the same trap and finally playing another ball made the green. Then just as I was about to putt, a man galloped over a rise down along the edge of the green and pelted off down the fairway to intercept a tank which rumbled into sight from the direction of the second green.

"Colonel so and so," said Kim casually. "Really loves horses y'know, but doesn't care a bit for golf."

Right about there the colonel had company. The only thing I hadn't seen after one hole was a leopard. We gave it up there and couldn't even play the 19th hole.

Marion Juniors Win, 13-7

Marion Junior High won its annual "neighborhoood" battle with Vernon in a 13-7 triumph at Marion yesterday afternoon.

Following a scoreless first period, Marion began a drive to open the second quarter which didn't stop until halfback Joe Ercegovich found end Alex Krill on a 10-yard touchdown toss. Ercegovich ran for the extra point.

In the third period Harry Muckle's Little Generals scored again when Quarterback John Daniels went over on a keeper from seven yards out to climax another drive. The extra point attempt was short.

Kenny Clark's Vernon eleven got in the game in the fourth quarter when a long pass put the ball on the two and four plays later the stout Marion line finally gave into Tommy Johnston who crashed into paydirt. Little Joe Lopez ran for the extra point.

The victory was the third against two losses for Marion, one of the few valley grid teams to post a complete season what with the flu bug making its rounds. Vernon has a game with Fallowfield remaining, a postponed tilt which may possibly not be played.

First downs favored the winners yesterday 8-5.

Country's Top Grid Game on TV Screen Tomorrow

By FRANK LITSKY

College football's stay-at-home fans get a treat Saturday. They can sit by the television set and watch what should be the best game in the country — Iowa at Michigan.

This (NBC) nationally televised battle of strong defenses, rated a tossup by the oddsmakers, will affect the Big Ten race, the Rose Bowl and Iowa morale.

Since 1924, Michigan has 12 victories and one tie in 13 games with Iowa, an especially bitter pill for Iowa coach Forest Evashevski who played for Michigan almost two decades ago. Iowa and Ohio State are tied for the conference lead with 3-0 records. Michigan (2-1) must win to stay in the running for the Rose Bowl.

Iowa Has Top Defense

The Iowa defense, best in the nation against rushing, must stop Michigan halfback Jim Pace, leading scorer in the Big Ten. Keystone of the Iowa attack is Randy Duncan, a polished quarterback who rates with the best in the nation.

The United Press Board of Coaches ranks Iowa third and Michigan 12th.

In another meeting between high-ranked teams, Notre Dame is a five-point favorite over Navy. Notre Dame is ranked fifth and Navy is tied for 13th. Notre Dame, whose green sophomores of 1956 have matured into the surprise team of 1957, must stop the passing of Tom Forrestal and the running of Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst. The Navy game touches off a nightmarish month for the Irish who play Michigan State, Oklahoma and Iowa on the following three Saturdays

Top-ranked Oklahoma, Iowa and Notre Dame all are unbeaten and untied. Oklahoma, winner of 45 straight, hopes to present Bud Wilkinson with his 100th victory as Sooner coach by whipping Kansas State. Oklahoma is a 30-point favorite.

Perfect Records Safe

Among other perfect-record teams, Texas A & M is favored by six points over Arkansas in the Southwest Conference, Auburn by eight over Florida in the Southeastern Conference and Dartmouth by three over Yale in the Ivy League.

Bellmar Drops 'Tough One' to S. Union, 6-0

Bellmar came within five yards of scoring one of the top upsets of the district grid season but mis-fired and ended up on the short end of a 6-0 score against South Union at Bellmar's Stadium last night.

Playing inspired ball before their mothers and fathers during a "Parent's Night" contest, the Hurricane team played the vaunted South Blue Devils on, even terms after South Union fumbled away a touchdown in the first quarter.

The only score in the game came on a cross-over hand-off on a punt return from halfback Mel Henderson to quarterback Ron Novak who streaked 45 yards to pay-dirt receiving excellent blocking, especially from Bill Anderson who threw the key block which sprung Novak loose for good. The running attempt for the extra point was stopped.

Henderson had taken the short punt at the 45, started to his left and slipped the ball to Novak who who ran by in the opposite direction.

The only other semblance of a South Union score came in the first quarter when a short Bellmar punt carried only to the 'Cane 25 from back on the six and the Devils started a drive which ended over the goal-line but Henderson fumbled going over and Bellmar recovered for a touchback.

Big Break But

Late in the third period Bellmar appeared to have the break it needed to pull the game out of the fire when South Union fumbled on a punt return on an attempt to pull another reverse.

Frank Burgess fell on the ball on the Bellmar 40. Reggie Kostelac, brilliant Hurricane fullback then put on a terrific display of offensive power as he ate up 33 yards in three tries, putting the ball on South Union's seven. Another plunge by Kostelac set the oval on the five.

At this point Bellmar seemed a little confused and were set back to the seven again. A substitute was sent in but took a while getting the attention of his mates who were already lining up out of the huddle.

A time-out was necessary and this seemed to "cool off" the 'Canes who saw another running play and a pass go awry to give South Union the ball and end the threat.

Bellmar mixed its running game, which saw the 'Canes gain 133 yards from scrimmage, 74 of them by Kostelac, with a passing attack which accounted for 46 yards. South Union sticking mostly to the ground, chalked up 188 yards rushing.

First downs favored the visitors by just 12-11.

An impressive half-time ceremony saw the parents of footballers Reggie Kostelac, Bill Kubin, Ralph Greco, Ron Schmidt, Ken Strenske, Ken Waugaman and Andy Stefanik honored along with the parents of cheerleaders Lou Ann Trozzo, Connie Moska and Donna Miller.

A moment of silence was observed by the crowd in memory of the late Ernie Dolfi, Bellmar band director, who passed away recently.

Rostraver Away; Glassport Reset

Rostraver High School's gridders travel to Carmichaels High tonight to battle the rugged Mikes in an 8 o'clock contest.

The Leps will be seeking their first victory while the Mikes are enjoying one of their better years.

Athletic Director James Weir announced another change in the Rostraver schedule with the Glassport game originally carded for Thursday, Nov. 14, reset for Saturday night, Nov. 16, at Rostraver. He also stated the North Huntingdon game may be an afternoon contest.

Five WPIAL Top Teams in Grid Action Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Five WPIAL Class AA contenders battle tonight as the championship race moves toward the home stretch.

The featured game will be the New Kensington contest at McKeesport's War Memorial. More than 9,000 fans are expected to witness the clash.

The following schedule of other games lists the contending team first:

Baldwin hosts Mt. Lebanon; Clairton travels to Turtle Creek; Uniontown will play at Connellsville and Wilkinsburg hosts Jeannette.

In Class A competition, defending champion Braddock will be at Canonsburg.

Other Class A games:

Beaver hosts Monaca; California entertains Waynesburg; Derry welcomes Scott Twp.; Glassport travels to Swissvale; North Union plays at German; Shaler journeys to Carnegie.

In Class B. competition, Apollo travels to Freeport; Avella hosts Midway; Montour plays at Bellevue; Shannock Valley journeys to Zelienople and West Greene plays at West Bethlehem in the only "day" game.

Rock, Cieply Share Blast Furnace Honors

Top pin-toppler in the Blast Furnace League last night was J. Rock with a 207-516.

Right behind Rock were G. Shepler, W. Cieply, J. Rusnak, H. Mazur and B. Fal.

Team winners last night were Mechanical, Electrical, and Blow Room.

Standings — Cast House 19-8, Electrical 18-9, Steam Plant 13-13, Pig Machine 11-16, Mechanical 11-16, and Blow Room 9-18.

Charleroi-Monessen Annual Classic Tops Tonight's Grid Card

Cougars Favored in 'Big Battle' at Charleroi; 45th Meeting in Series

It's the annual "big one" for Charleroi and Monessen High School grid teams tonight at the Charleroi Stadium.

The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock for the 45th meeting between the two ancient valley rivals. With Charleroi leading in the long series which started in 1907, 21 wins to 16 with seven ties.

Except for Cougar quarterback Ron Cosner, and Monessen tackle Ed Allen both teams are in top physical shape for the classic tonight which a capacity crowd is expected to witness.

Season records mean little when these two rivals meet for the underdog invaribly comes out on top.

Going into tonight's game Charleroi shows a 4-1-1 record, having topped Oliver, Allegheny, Donora and North Catholic, tied Ambridge, and lost to Calirton.

The locals have defeated Windber, Monongahela and Redstone, losing to Windber in a 38-37 thriller and Uniontown.

Starters Set

Named to start tonight's game for the Greyhounds are George Guibourdanche and Dennis O'Toole at ends; Big Ed Allen and Vince Pascarella at tackles; Terry Throop and Bob Pauline at guards; Lou Gigliotti, at center, in front of a backfield of Dan Barton at quarter, Ken Bronson, and Joe Karbowsky at halves and Carl Rattay at fullback. Jim (Bobo) Aldrich, who has been sidelined since the opener except for token appearances may see more action tonight. Allen is nursing a charley horse.

Coach Rab Currie of Charleroi will start Ollie Payne and Timmy Lee at ends, Keith Melenyzer and Mike Kondratic at tackles; Fred Yuss, All-Big Six last year now back in action after being injured earlier, and Joe Arrigo at guards; and Art Mouyard at center on the line. The backfield will show sophomore Gary Hogan replacing the injured Cosner, sophmore Paul Strelick and Bob Daugherty at halves with Dan Reeves at fullback.

Leading conference scorer Joe Uhlman will not start but will see action at a halfback slot.

Rudy Cheroki Posts 228-503 BMM Mark

Rudy Cheroki rolled a sparkling 228 and a 503 series to pace the Blooming Mill Millwrights League action last night.

Other top scorers were Paul Martz, Joe Pallini, Ray Echart, Bob McKeever, Ray Calderone, Verl Faust, Leon Delzangle, Ralph Greco, Andy Dyky, James Salvino.

Webb Seeks Shot At Crown in Tonight's Bout

NEW YORK (UP) — Middleweight contender Spider Webb, seeking a little more lustre that might get him a shot at the 160-pound crown, fights Willie Vaughn at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 10-rounder between boxer-puncher Webb of Chicago and left-hooker Vaughn of Los Angeles will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Both men — Webb, 26, and Vaughn, 24 — are rangy middleweights and skilled boxers who can fight from the upright or bob-and-weave. But the Spider is a long favorite over the unranked middleweight champion of California because of his punch and his ruggedness.

Webb lost but two of his 26 bouts. He knocked out half his opponents. His 24-2-0 record includes 13 kayoes. And he never was stopped.

Vaughn has had the greater experience in 55 bouts. But Willie never ate regularly, trained properly nor fought often until he got himself a new manager 16 months ago—Leo A. Minskoff, wealthy New York realtor.

Accordingly Willie's over-all 33-16-5 and one no decision record is not impressive. His 33 victories contain only eight knockouts. But his 16 defeats include five stops. He's a better fighter now than that record would indicate, although he still lacks that "extra something" to win the close ones.

Evancho Tops OHR; Tie for First Spot

L. Evancho's 204-511 was the top score in the Open Hearth Riggers Bowling League as the Frabels and McShanes tied for first place when the Frables topped the previous leaders.

Other leading scorers were J. Koget, S. Salay and C. Kline.

Standings — Frabels 17-11, McShanes 17-11, McVickers 16-12 and VanShuras 10-18.

Reds Sign Kosten

MEMPHIS (UP)— Herb Kosten, third baseman and captain of the Alabama baseball team, has signed a contract with the Cincinnati Redlegs and has been assigned to the Wenatchee, Wash., team in the Class B Northwest League.

Lot Parking Advised For Monessen Fans

Monessen fans attending the Charleroi game tonight are advised to park in the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce parking lot at Fifth St., Dave Bossun, executive director of the Charleroi C of C. stated this morning.

Easy access can be made to the Charleroi Stadium from the lot and the Eighth St. exit will be opened after the game to speed up traffic out of the lot, he added.

Parker Sticks With Matthews, Glick as Kickers

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pittsburgh Steelers coach Buddy Parker has decided to stick with the place-kicking combination of Gary Glick and Ray Matthews for Sunday's game with the Baltimore Colts.

In the Steelers' contest last week end with the Philadelphia Eagles, Matthews held the ball and Glick did the kicking in two field goal attempts.

"Ray held it fine, and I got my regular boot. I just missed that's all," Glick said.

Last season, before Glick was sidelined with a fractured cheek bone, his conversion attempts were considered almost "automatic" sure points. He booted 16 of 17 conversions and made four successful field goal kicks out of six tries.

The Steelers team will conduct a final local drill today and leave by plane Saturday morning for the trip to Baltimore. A crowd of 45,000 is expected to be on hand for the game.

Sports Featurette—

Valley's New Coach Anxiously Awaits Floor Season Opener

Transplanted Ohioan Tom Healey, the valley's newest athletic mentor, who will guide the Bellmar High School Hurricane basketball team for the first time this season has put the stamp of approval on the Monongahela Valley as a sport area.

Healey, who came to the 'Canes from Wellsville, O., has been assisting Bap Manzini, Bellmar grid pilot, in tutoring the BHS gridders but today takes over the reigns of the Black and Gold cage team. He is anxiously awaiting the initial game of the 1957-58 season.

"I'm eager to compare the caliber of ball played in this sports-minded valley with the brand of basketball in the Ohio area where I coached since my college days," Healey stated.

His enthusiasm could come from a glance at the material potential at Bellmar, at least from the height stand-point.

Expected to report for initial drills this evening are such "sky-scrapers" as Walter Lauisch, a 6-5 sophomore, from Marion Junior High, one of two junior highs "feeding" the Bellmar varsity; Ron DeMoss, a 6-4 sophomore; John Kasuda, a 6-0 sophomore; Carl Osborne, a 6-4 junior; and John Badock, a 6-2 junior, the latter two up from the Junior Varsity.

Only One Letterman

After grid drills are completed he will welcome his only letterman holdover Ron Schmidt, a 6-2 senior; and Percy Crawford, 6-1 junior; Dick Caputo, a 6-1 sophomore and Lou Comadena, a 6-0 sophomore.

In addition to the above-named six-footers he will have Ben Nelson a 5-10 junior from the 1956-57 Jayvees; Bill Kubin, a 5-11 senior, who saw some varsity action last year, Larry Rankin, 5-7 junior; Larry Petras, a 5-9 junior; Dennis Swiantek, a 5-10 junior; the latter four now playing regularly for the grid team.

Tom Healey

Handicapped by Gym

"I would have to admit we have height," said Healey, "but I can't see too much in the way of experience except among the 'little guys', that's why I'm so anxious for the first exhibition game to see them under fire."

Healey will be handicapped this season by probably having to practice and play his games on the Marion Junior High floor while the new Bellmar gym is being built.

The new Hurricane mentor had been commuting to Ohio over the weekends but is currently residing with his wife and family at 311 First Ave., Belle Vernon (Lynnwood).

From what he's heard of some of the Mon Valley basketball courts they are much smaller (except for Monessen's, of course, and possibly Monongahela's and Donora's gyms) than those in Ohio.

This too adds to the anxiety of the new mentor in getting the season under way.

Lefty Grove

Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove parlayed a strong left arm, an almost matchless fast ball and durability into exactly 300 American League victories in 17 seasons with the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Red Sox. He was a 20-game winner seven straight years and was voted into the baseball Hall of Fame.

Whatever happened to Lefty Grove? Today, at 57, he is chief of police in his home town of Lonaconing, Md.

VANCOUVER —Archie Moore, 192, St. Louis, stopped Bobby Mitchell, 194, Omaha, Neb. (5)

SAN FRANCISCO—Bobby Scanlon, 138, Buffalo, N.Y., stopped Wallace (Bud) Smith, 139, East Orange, N.J. (10).

Fined Yankees Given Refund

NEW YORK (UP)— The New York Yankees have refunded $5,500 in fines to six players who were involved in a May 16 Copacabana brawl that made headlines and led to the deal that sent Billy Martin to the Kansas City Athletics.

Only two players — Martin and catcher Yogi Berra — have received the money to date but the United Press learned that refund checks are in the mail to Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford, Hank Bauer and Johnny Kucks. Martin, Berra, Mantle, Ford and Bauer were fined $1,000 each and Kucks was fined $500.

The players, celebrating Martin's birthday, hit the headlines (but big) when a New York City delicatessen owner charged that Bauer slugged him during an argument. A $250,000 suit against Bauer was tossed out of court.

Frick Considers Move

NEW YORK (UP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick will consider moving his office to Chicago if New York City remains a one-team major league city for another few years. The chief reason for the shift, should it materialize, is to permit Frick to keep in close contact with players of both leagues regarding the players' pension fund.

Bell's 'Ring' March

NEW YORK (UP)— Bobby Bell of Walden, N.Y., has been matched for a 10-round bout with Pappy Gault of Spartanburg, S.C., for the North American Featherweight championship, Nov. 20, at Newburgh, N.Y.

Pitt, Orange at Full Strength for Big Battle

By UNITED PRESS

The Pitt Panthers and the Orange of Syracuse conducted final drills at Pitt Stadium today and then rested for their Saturday encounter.

Syracuse, the 1956 Lambert Trophy winner, will be out to win its first game at Pitt Stadium.

The Syracuse squad arrived by plane this morning and held its practice in the afternoon.

Both teams were expected to be up to full strength for the game. For Pitt, tackle Ron Kissel was the only doubtful starter. For Syracuse, three stalwarts, previously sidelined with injuries, were declared ready to play Saturday. They were tackles Ron Luciano and Roger Davis and center Charles Wink.

If Kissel is sidelined, either Ernie Westwood or Ken Montanari will start in his place.

In another featured game Saturday in Western Pennsylvania, Carnegie Tech and Geneva will clash at Beaver Falls.

Both teams are undefeated in Western Pennsylvania Class B competition.

Two weeks ago, the Geneva Covies defeated previously unbeaten Westminster while last week Carnegie Tech romped over Washington and Jefferson.

Other Western Pennsylvania games:

Bethany hosts W & J; Juniata welcomes Wilkes; St. Vincent plays Kings at a neutral field; Thiel travels to Hiram, and Waynesburg travels to Findlay for a night game.

In the state teachers league, Bloomsburg and California meet at a neutral field; Westminster hosts Indiana State; Lock Haven meets East Stroudsburg at a neutral field; Slippery Rock and Clarion meet at a neutral field and Shippensburg and Kutztown play on neutral grounds.

Glassport Soph To Quarterback Penn Staters

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP) —Sophomore Richie Lucas, of Glassport, will quarterback the Penn State offense when the Nittany Lions face West Virginia here Saturday.

State's regular field general, Al Jacks, was out for the season from an injury sustained in the Syracuse game last week end.

West Virginia also was having some hard luck. Guard Chuck Howley was out with a jaw fracture suffered in a practice session Tuesday.

On the receiving end of Lucas' passes will be Les Walters. He caught four passes for two touchdowns and 100 yards against Syracuse.

The potency of the Penn State aerial attack, however, will be threatened by the Mountaineer's superlative pass defense. West Virginia has allowed its opponents an average 79.5 yards per game via the air route.

Renew Old Rivalry

ATHENS, Ga., (UP) — When Georgia meets Alabama here on Saturday it will continue one of Dixie's oldest football rivalries. It will mark the 43rd meeting between the two schools in a series which dates back to 1895.

Group Collects $115 for UNICEF

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church collected the sum of $115 when they visited the homes in the community to collect for UNICEF, United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

There were 23 young people who met on Saturday at the church at 6:30 p. m. to receive their assignments for the collection which began at 7 and continued until 9 o'clock.

After making the visitation in costume the group returned to the church for a worship service during which they dedicated the collection. David Cable and Ruth Ann Barger conducted the service in which the Rev. William Schatz, church pastor, took part

A Halloween party with games and refreshments concluded the evening. Nancy Hixenbaugh, youth councilor, and Carol Davenport, adviser, were in charge.

One Contest in Washington Twp. Election Tuesday

Only one local office is at stake in next Tuesday's general election in Washington Twp.

The lone contest will match Charles Summers, Democrat, against Jerry Weiss, Republican, for road supervisor.

Weiss is an incumbent supervisor. He lost in the Democratic primary to Summers, but won the Republican nod on write-ins.

Although Weiss is listed as a Republican by the Fayette County Elections Board, he chose to have his name on the Democatic ballot in the primary.

Political observers predict that Weiss will put up a strong battle even though the ownship generally votes overwhelmingly in favor of the Democrats.

All other township candidates have won both the Democratic and Republican nominations, thus assuring their election.

Guy Winn will be the tax collector; Stan Koslasky and John Kasuda the school directors; Harry Muckle the auditor; and Mike Mitchell the assessor.

Firemen Will Meet in Town

The next meeting of the Fayette County Firemen's Association will be held in Belle Vernon next Wednesday evening with Belle Vernon Fire Co. No. 2 as the host group.

A special program is planned and there will be a business session in the fire hall. The late supper will be served in the social rooms of the First Christian Church

Beginning in December the meetings will be held on the regular date the first Friday of the month. The change in date is made during the football season

The fire prevention committee is in charge of an essay contest, which will conclude at the November meeting.

County firemen have been asked to assist the Muscular Dystrophy Association again this year in conducting the November campaign. Part of this fund is used in Fayette County.

Bruce Bradley, son of Mrs. Betty Bradley, is able to get about on crutches after being hospitalized due to a leg infection He was in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital, and later entered Allegheny General Hospital, Pittsburgh. He is a student at Belle Vernon grade school, and is now recuperating at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raffelo and daughter, Debbie, have returned to their home in Detroit, Mich. after visiting with Mrs Raffelo's mother, Mrs. Goldie Fazio of 604 Bluff St.

Pamela Fazio, daughter of Mrs. Goldie Fazio, Bluff St. returned yesterday morning from Charleroi-Monessen Hospital after undergoing treatment for a broken arm sustained in a fall. Her arm is broken two places between the wrist and elbow. Pamela is a seventh grade student at Vernon Junior High School.

The Women's Benefit Association will meet this evening in the Sons of Italy Hall on Broad Ave

Average Protestant Gives $56.74 to His Church, Report Says

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — The average American Protestant gives $56 74 a year to his church, the National Council of Churches reported today.

This is the highest per capita giving figure ever recorded by the council. It represents an increase of about 7 per cent over last year's figure of $52 88.

Each year, in November, the council compiles the latest available statistics on contributions to American religious denominations. The Roman Catholic church and Jewish bodies do not publish official figures on contributions, and are not included in the compilation.

Reports from 52 Protestant bodies this year showed total contributions of $2,041,908,161, an all-time record. Most of this money —81 per cent—was used for local congregational expenses, such as paying the minister's salary, enlarging or maintaining the church building, buying hymnals, etc

Only 19 per cent was earmarked for foreign and home missions, relief projects and other benevolences.

Per capita giving was calculated by dividing the total contributions by the number of church members over the age of 13.

Adventists Still High

As usual, the Seventh Day Adventists were way out in front with an average contribution of $202.02 per member. Close behind were several small fundamentalist bodies which like the Adventists, place heavy stress on tithing.

The Wesleyan Methodist Church ($197 43 , the Evangelical Free Church ($165), the Pilgrim Holiness Church ($161 70), and the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends ($142.08).

None of the larger Protestant bodies came close to these figures.

The highest per member contributions among the major denominations were recorded by the Southern Presbyterians and the Reformed Church, which tied at $88.56.

Per member giving by other major Protestant denominations:

Missouri Synod Lutherans $80 88, Presbyterian USA (Northern) $72 03, Congregational Christian 65 18, United Lutheran $58 46, Evangelical Lutheran $56.47, Protestant Episcopal $52 79, Southern Baptists $48.17, Methodist Church $43.82, American (Northern) Baptists $37.18, Disciples of Christ $37.14.

Precise Figures Unknown

No precise statement can be made about the proportion of his income which the average Protestant gives to his church. Per capita personal income of Americans was $1,955 last year. But children under 13 are counted in computing this figure, and are not counted in computing the average giving figure, so the two are not fairly comparable.

Various "reports" are issued from time to time which give a total figure for all U.S. giving to churches. Since no official information is available on Catholic and Jewish contributions, these reports are little more than guesses. The usual procedure is to increase the National Council's total for Protestant churches by about 70 to 75 per cent, on the assumption that the extra amount will cover Catholic and Jewish giving.

Scottdale Gets Sewage Permits

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Sanitary Water Board has authorized sewage permits to these western Pennsylvania municipalities:

Neshannock Twp. School District, Neshannock Twp., Lawrence County, sewage treatment works to serve a public school; Bellefonte, Centre County, Scottdale, Westmoreland County; Edinboro, Erie County; and O'Hara Twp., Shaler Twp., Penn Twp, Upper St. Clair Twp, and Etna, all in Allegheny County, and Hollidaysburg, Blair County, all extensions to existing sewer systems.

A permit for construction of sewers also was issued to Bethel, Allegheny County, with the condition the sewers not be used until a sewage treatment plant under construction is put into operation.

New 'Pike Section in Spring

Bridge Is Holding Up Road

Relocated Route 31 — a multi-million dollar highway project under construction since 1946 — may be completed by late next year.

N. G. Bell, district highway engineer, said today there is a "very good possibility" the final sections of the 42-mile road will be finished by the fall of 1958.

Bell pointed out that most of the highway is now completed. The big holdup at the moment is the huge suspension bridge over the Youghiogheny River at Smithton.

The bridge is scheduled for completion next spring. That will open the highway from Ruffsdale to Bentleyville.

When the entire 42 mile stretch is completed, the highway will connect the Pennsylvania Turnpike at New Stanton with U. S. Route 40 at a point near Washington, Pa.

To Be U.S. Number

The section from New Stanton to Ruffsdale is now under construction. Also being built is the length of highway from Bentleyville to Washington.

Bell said that the highway — which the state now calls "Relocated Route 31" — will be given a U. S. number when completed. No number has been selected as yet.

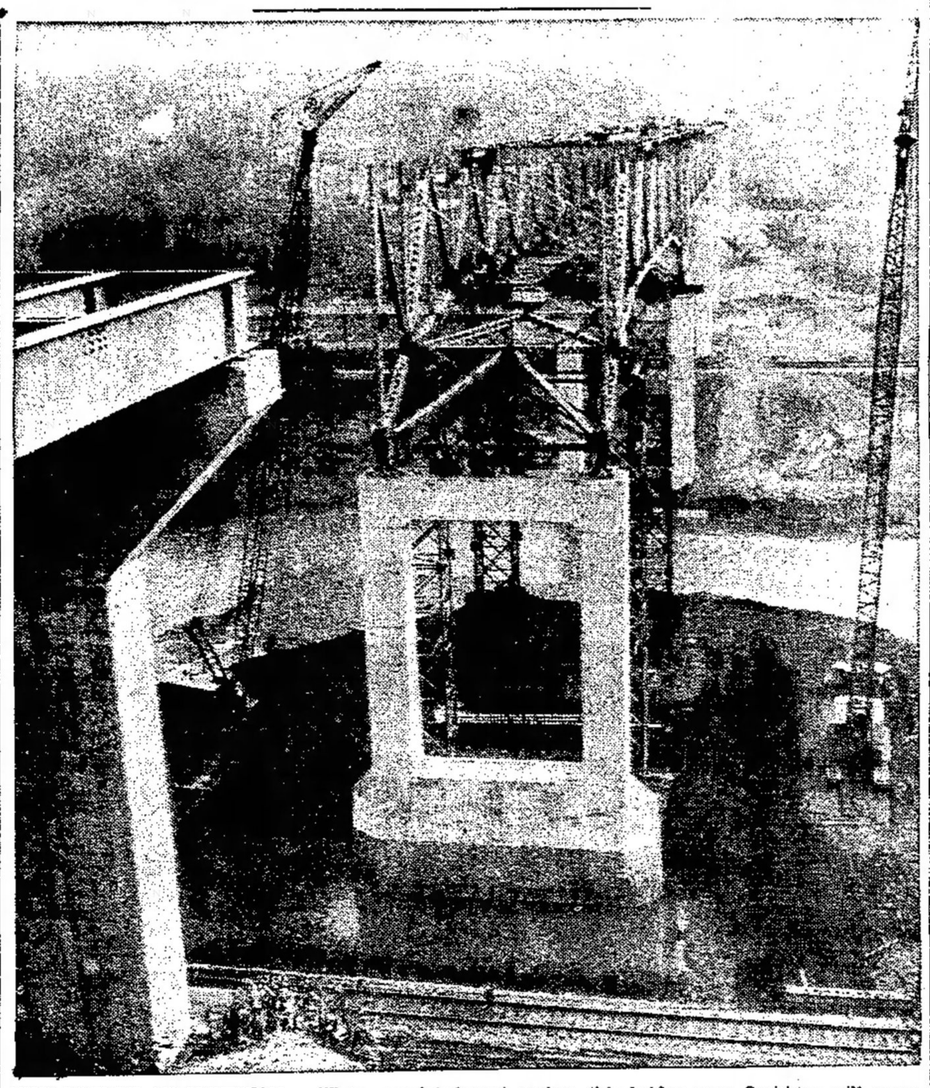
Recently the project was approved as part of the federal system of highways. The federal government has already appropriated more than four million dollars to make a 16 mile stretch "limited access."

This will be accomplished by building marginal roads and interchanges. Bell said contracts for this phase of the road may be awarded soon.

The giant highway project started in 1946. Since then, the progress had depended a great deal on the amount of state money available for the costly project.

Besides the bridge at Smithton, a huge structure was necessary to span the Monongahela River at Belle Vernon.

All of the highway is four-lane and most of it is concrete. A small portion is black-topped.



NEW BRIDGE AT SMITHTON — When completed next spring, this bridge near Smithton will carry relocated Route 31 over the Youghiogheny River. This is the last major project in the 42-mile highway which was started in 1946. The four-lane roadway will eventually become part of the federal system of highways.

NEW SECTION OF RELOCATED 31 — This new four-lane section of relocated Route 31 was finished recently from the interchange at Route 51 to the Smithton bridge. When entirely completed, the 42 mile highway will connect the Pennsylvania Turnpike at a point near New Stanton with U.S. Route 40 at a point near Washington, Pa.

President Coty Disgusted with French Crisis

PARIS (UP)— Reports circulated in Paris today that President Rene Coty was on the verge of resigning in disgust at the month-old government crisis.

Felix Gaillard was trying to form a cabinet but has run into difficulties because of the fence-sitting tactics of the powerful Socialist Party. He is the fifth man to attempt to end the worst political crisis since the end of the war.

The rumors about Coty were so strong that the Paris leftwing ("Express") said he already has drafted a message to the National Assembly deputies warning he will quit unless a government is formed soon.

The "Express," which backs radical ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, was the only publication to carry the report. But observers already have anticipated such a move by Coty as the political deadlock worsened.

Gaillard has made it plain he would scrap his efforts to form a government unless the Socialists agreed to participate. But he has also asked for the participation of the Independents, the political arch-enemies of the Socialists.

McKeesport Man Goes to Prison

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Isaiah Warren, 29, McKeesport, Pa. was sentenced Thursday to 8 to 16 years in Western Penitentiary for the fatal shooting of a friend during an argument.

Warren pleaded guilty Monday to the slaying of Mount Vernon Johnson, 25, McKeesport, on Nov. 27, 1956, during a heated discussion over a "trivial" matter.

Another man, Hubert Bell, 29, McKeesport, was wounded in the shooting spree. Warren also was sentenced to 1 to 3 years on a charge of felonious shooting, but visiting Judge Warren K. Hess of Berks County ordered the sentences run concurrently.

Hess, who heard testimony in the case, adjudged Warren guilty of second degree murder.

Market Reactions Are Explained

By ELMER C. WALZER

NEW YORK (UP)—The little fellows who have been buying small amounts of stocks as "a stake in America" still are wondering what makes the market do what it does in wide swings from time to time.

To answer the questions these small buyers of stock are posing, this department called on Gerald M. Loeb, a senior partner of E.F. Hutton & Co., and author of "The Battle for Investment Survival," a best-selling stock market guide.

Loeb says the investments the little fellows made over-emphasized the optimistic side.

"The American economy is a profit and loss economy—not solely a profit economy," he says. "Everything in this country—dollars, real estate, commodities—goes up and down — not only shares."

He notes that the security market suffers from the publicity given to the changes in prices as they are printed in the daily tables as well as occasional dispatches reaching page one—such as "market falls 5.6 billion dollars."

Also, he says, the share market suffers from one of its greatest assets which is immediate liquidity.

"People often ask why the securities markets are so sensitive to developments and one of the reasons is that they are one of the few places where investors can buy or sell and close the deal within minutes, if not seconds."

He explained that values change in all businesses but the changes, unlike stocks, do not show until the business is sold. The listed super - market's quotations are all over the tape, but there is no sandwich man marching up and down in front of the privately-owned shop with changing values marked on a board.

"It is certainly correct to say," Loeb points out, "that if our future as a nation is secure the corporate shareowner will share no differently than the single proprietor private entrepreneur.

"Inflation and deflation, higher cost of living and lower cost of living; prosperity and depression; confidence and fear; summer and winter; day and night—these are the facts of life just as much as higher and lower markets..."

Wrong Approach

CHICAGO (UP)—The YMCA's plan to swell membership appears to be a bust. A spokesman said 39 free membership cards were attached to balloons and released over the city a week ago. Not one has been turned in.

Flu Up; Deaths Are Down

By UNITED PRESS

Alhough the number of flu cases across the country continued to climb, the death toll from influenza and its complications showed signs of tapering off.

The United Press counted a total of 478 flu-caused deaths since this summer when Asian flu first appeared That was an increase of about 30 fatalities since Monday.

New York state had the highest toll with 126 deaths, followed by Pennsylvania with 84, Michigan 38 and California 34

Toll By States

Elsewhere, Ohio State had 28 deaths, Illinois and Louisiana 21 each, Wisconsin 18, Iowa 16, Washington 15, Utah 11, Colorado 10, Hawaii 9, Indiana and Kentucky 8 each, Connecticut 7, Tennessee and Oklahoma 5 each, New Jersey and Oregon 3 each, Minnesota and Nebraska 2 each, and Arizona, Maine, Missouri and the District of Columbia, 1 each

Federal health authorities estimated there have been about 3500,000 persons strucken with flu in the nation.

The ailment forced postponement of a host of college football games for the fourth straight weekend, including the Indiana State - Valparaiso and Franklin-Indiana Central games in Indiana.

Other Colleges Close

Concordia College at Moorhead, Minn, and Augustana College at Sioux Falls, S D., were forced to shut down Tuesday due to the flu.

Officials at Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo feared a critical flu epidemic as cases jumped from 100 to 200 Thursday, boosting the total in the institution to 350

In southern Illinois, a flu outbreak forced the closing of most schools in Hardin County and the county's hospital at Rosiclare was filled to capacity. Patients were housed in temporary quarters and volunteers have been recruited to care for them

WHY MONESSEN NEEDS A NEW LIBRARY

- Monessen's library now has only 22 chairs for readers. American Library Association says a suitable library should have 95 reader seats.
- Present library has 14,065 books or .7 volume per person in its collection. The acceptable standard would be 2.5 per person or a total of 47,500.
- "The library program has been carefully worked out with the City Council and on the basis of expert advice we feel we are moving in a practical way to meet this community need."—The Monessen Daily Independent.
- "Monessen if it chooses a strategic location and builds such a library will bring great credit and satisfaction to all its citizens."—Joseph Wheeler, library consultant.
- "We can no longer allow a handful of private citizens to provide the community's library service. And, if we are to have the kind of library Monessen needs, we must make it a service of the municipal government." —Donald C. Duvall, chairman of the Committee for the Library.
- "A good library is an indispensable factor in the life of a town or city." —1955 Report on the Monessen Library.
- Because the present collection of books is so small, Monessen readers borrowed only 2.71 books per person in 1955 while the national standard is eight volumes.
- "Library service is a function of municipal government . . . "—statement by Ralph Munn, director of the Carnegie Library system of Pittsburgh.
- "The library is suffering from being hidden in a tight little shoebox building on a side street . . . "—excerpt from report by Joseph L. Wheeler, noted library expert.
- Monessen spent about 60 cents per capita in 1955 for library services. The minimum standard established in 1948 calls for $1.50 per person. And for reasonably good service, $2.25 per capita is required.

Halloween Tragedies In Nation

By UNITED PRESS

Near tragedy marked Halloween celebrations in parts of the nation, including Chicago where a bonfire exploded, injuring a little girl and endangering about 800 other persons.

A policeman was shot in the leg at Bethesda, Md., by a man who demanded protection from "prowlers."

In Georgia, bandits seized the opportunity to don masks and terrorize merchants in robberies. fered with tower operators guid- And in Miami, a prankster intering planes into Miami International Airport.

On the lighter side, Halloween funsters put a "for sale" sign in front of the old governor's mansion in Columbus, Ohio. It was removed by a real estate firm before any prospective buyers showed up.

Little Girl Injured

Nancy Maloney, 3, of the Chicago suburb of Merrionette Park, suffered a head injury Thursday night when a towering Halloween bonfire exploded during that community's celebration.

Authorities at Bethesda, Md., said they received a call from a 72-year-old man seeking protection from Halloween prowlers.

When officer Richard T. Russell arrived to investigate the complaint, the man stepped from behind bushes and shot Russell in the leg.

Escape artist Ralph Cozzolino put on a Halloween costume and robbed a Birmingham, Ga., supermarket of $1,500. He was captured a short time later in another store.

Two bandits in Halloween costumes also robbed a rural grocery store at Spartanburg, Ga., fleeing with about $4,000.

Disrupts Air Traffic

A Halloween prankster with apparent disregard for human lives disrupted the control tower at the Miami airport by broadcasting piercing screams over various radio wave lengths. The unidentified persons, believed to have been in an airplane, hampered efforts to guide planes in landing and taking off at the airport.

Collections for the UNICEF children's fund around the nation by Halloween trick-or-treaters are expected to net the organization about one million dollars.

Population of the World Grows 450 Persons Every Five Minutes

WASHINGTON (UP) — In the five minutes you spend reading this dispatch, the population of the world will grow by about 450 persons.

It has increased by 120,000 since you read yesterday's newspaper.

By this time next year, there will be 43,000,000 more human beings on earth than there are right now.

By the end of the present century, at the present rate of increase, the population of the world will be 5,400,000,000—double the present figure.

Authority for these statements is the United Nations Demographic Yearbook, an annual compilation of population statistics from all parts of the world.

The most rapid increases are taking place in underdeveloped areas which are least able to feed additional mouths. Latin America leads the world with an annual population growth of 4.4 per cent. Africa and southwest Asia are close behind with 4 per cent, according to the UN survey.

U.S. Average

Both the United States and Russia are growing at a rate of 1.7 per cent—the world average.

The unprecedented speed with which the human race is multiplying has alarmed many population experts. Robert C. Cook, director of the Population Reference Bureau, calls it "one of the most ominous developments of our time . . .as great a threat to mankind as the atomic bomb."

Dr. J. O. Hertzler, professor of sociology at the University of Nebraska, asserts in his new book, "The Crisis in World Population," that "horrendous" problems lie ahead "unless fairly direct and expeditious action is taken soon."

The Nebraska professor says science may be able to increase the world's food supply "greatly" in the future by increasing the yield of farm lands, by developing artificial foods, through "hydroponic" techniques in which edible foods are grown in solutions of chemicals and water, by using food resources from the sea. But he warns that "much of this is still a hope and not a promise."

Increases Can't Last

"Though there may be phenomenal increases of food for a while, this supply cannot be increased at the same rate and with the same ease forever. The earth is finite and none of its resources are indefinitely extendable in use without eventually greater difficulty and expense."

Migration, the "safety valve" for overpopulated countries in earlier generations, is now "impracticable as even a partial solution of population pressure" because most of the good farmlands of the earth are already being "intensively utilized."

Hertzler warns that nature will intervene "in a characteristically ruthless manner" to halt population growth through famine, disease or other catastrophes unless human beings act soon to "bring about some limitation" of their own fertility.

Young Teachers To Leave Field

WASHINGTON (UP)—Half the young people who entered the teaching profession last year expect to leave it within five years.

Education Commissioner Lawrence G. Derthick called the findings a "serious problem" in view of the teacher shortage.

Reds Aid Romania

VIENNA (UP)—Russia will help Romania construct one of the biggest electric plants on the Danube, the Romanian press reported today. The Soviet Union will ship machines and engineers to help build the $1,300,000,000 plant at the so-called "iron gate" on the Danube near the Romanian-Yugoslav border, the newspapers said. Construction will take six to eight years.

Cop Is Shot

BETHESDA, Md. (UP)—Police said a 72-year-old man called Thursday night for protection from Halloween "prowlers." When patrolman Richard T. Russell arrived at the house, police said, the elderly man stepped from behind a bush and shot Russell in the leg.

Hammarskjold to Mediate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold will volunteer today to mediate the rapidly - cooling "war crisis" between Syria and Turkey, informed sources said.

Neither a Syrian resolution calling for an investigation by a seven power commission nor a Western measure requesting Hammarskjold to offer his services and visit the area if necessary was to be put to a vote when the General Assembly meets this morning.

This compromise was reached apparently as a face-saving device for Syria in a day-long series of conferences Thursday.

Japanese Ambassador Koto Matsudaira, who proposed the Western measure, conferred several times with Syrian Foreign Minister Salah El Bitar who had insisted his resolution be voted upon.

Then Bitar and Syrian Ambassador Farid Zeineddine conferred at length with Assembly President Sir Leslie Munro. Munro then saw Turkish Ambassador Selim Sarper and then conferred again with the Syrians.

Syrian spokesman Jawdat Mufti insisted Syria had made no advance commitment to agree to Hammarskjold's intervention.

In view of Syria's on-again-off-again record on the mediation offer of King Saud of Saudi Arabia, indicating differences within the Damascus government, the Syrian position with regard to Hammarskjold was cloudy.

But Western delegates believed the Syrians would agree to mediation by Hammarskjold once the secretary general made the offer publicly.

Church Group Asks Council For Okay to Open Street

Representatives of St. Edward's Catholic Church attended the October meeting of the Fayette City Borough Council on Wednesday in the Borough Building.

The Rev. Charles Ribick, Frank Berna, and Edward Sobek asked the council to draw up an agreement to permit the Church to open the street, known as Plum Alley, from South High St. to a point rejoining the portion of Plum Alley now open.

The road would pass on the south side of the church property and between the properties owned by Dorothy Riley and Mrs. Gertrude Henry. Father Ribick, speaking for the delegation, stated that the road will be constructed at the expense of the church.

John Canigiani, president of council, with the approval of the three councilmen present, stated that action on the proposal would be considered. Mrs. Riley, also present at the meeting, stated that she had no objection to the opening of the street provided that no damage would be done to her property.

The regular slated business of council included the payment of current bills. Council voted to pay $1129.34 to the State Fund and $363.29 to the Charleroi Supply Company for cement for curbs which were placed in the hill section prior to the resurfacing of the streets.

$1000 was transfered from the parking meter fund to the general fund. A vote was carried to pay $500 to the Charleroi Supply Company on an outstanding bill for materials for the Borough Building.

The local governing body agreed to be the host borough for the Washington County Borough Association meeting to be held in May 1958.

Councilmen present in addition to the president were Harold Keenan, Louis Alberta and LeRoy Gardner.

Ladies Sodality Holds Meeting; Duties Discussed

On Wednesday evening The Ladies Sodality of St. Edward's Catholic Church, Fayette City, met in the church social rooms for its regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was in charge of the Prefect, Dorothea Yelanich, who opened the session with prayer. The duties of the officers of the Sodality were discussed. Miss Yelanich then appointed Agatha Berna and Monica Krivda as co-chairmen of a membership committee.

A report was given on the progress of the sale of Christmas Wrappings and Christmas Cards. Plans were made to hold a candy sale on Sunday, Nov. 24, before each of the morning Masses. Antoinette McGinsky and Delores Berna were named co-chairmen.

Announcement was made of the Communion Service on Sunday. Each member of the society is asked to join in receiving Communion.

Due to a ruling of the Sodality, Miss Yelanich, who will be married on Saturday, Nov. 9, retired as president. The remaining meetings for the year will be conducted by the vice president, Judy Nitauver. New officers will be elected in January.

Home from Hospital

Mrs. George Gardner, a patient in Magee Hospital, Pittsburgh for several weeks has been discharged and is recuperating at her home here. She received many cards and flowers while in the hospital and since being at home.

UNICEF Drive Big Success In This Area

UNICEF Trick or Treat drive held in Fayette City under the sponsorship of the Woman's Society Christian Service of the Methodist Church and carried out with the help of the Senior Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Gill, and a group of some 30 younger children, was pronounced a great success.

The children were divided into small groups and were taken to designated sections of the town. Group leaders were Francine Gill, Suzanne Cramer, Mary Ann Hamer, Colleen Auther, Anna Arrow, and Marcia Coates.

They returned to the social rooms of the Methodist Church where they reported on the drive. A collection of $71.85 was reported. The amount was increased when the Teen Age Class of the Methodist Church School added $5 to the amount.

Mrs. Clyde Wyatt, the organization treasurer, recorded the money and will send it to the Childrens Fund of the United Nations. The local Church Activities chairman, Mrs. Read Brightwell, and the president, Mrs. Edwin Hindmarsh, then surprised the Halloweeners with a treat for their unselfish giving of time and effort for UNICEF.

Not dead to us who loved her;
Not lost but gone before.
She lives with us in memory
And will forever more.
Sadly missed by her daughters, Mrs. Edna Stonage, Mrs. Thelma Molnar, Mrs. Evelyn Kroeschel.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Oscar McWilliams, who died one year ago today, November 1, 1956.
The stars are dimly shining
Upon one lonely grave,
Where sleeps without awakening
One we loved but could not save.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, James L. Sterner, who died one year ago today, November 1, 1956.
We lost a dad with a heart of gold
Who is more to us than wealth untold.
Without farewell he fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep.
We have lost but God has gained
One of the best fathers the world contained.
As we loved him, so we miss him,
In our hearts he is ever near,
Loved, remembered, longed for always

Eugene B. Grace Retires as Head Of Bethlehem Steel

NEW YORK (UP) — Eugene B. Grace, who rose from a $1.80 per day electric craneman to chairman and chief executive officer of the Bethlehem Steel Corp., announced his retirement Thursday.

The 81-year-old executive, one of the great industrialists of this century, was the man principally responsible for building Bethlehem into one of the largest corporations in the world.

Bethlehem president A. B. Homer will succeed Grace as chief executive officer of the company. The post of chairman is being abolished.

Directors at their quarterly meeting elected Grace honorary chairman of the board. He will remain a director of the company.

Grace's retirement comes at a time when his company is engaged in an historic battle with the Justice Department, which is attempting to block a proposed merger of Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Charles M. Schwab, who founded both U.S. Steel and Bethlehem had called Grace "the greatest steel man in the country."

College Students Do Not Read Effectively

All college students have learned to read, but many have not learned to read effectively.

At the Pennsylvania State University, where a course in the improvement of basic reading and study skills has been taught for the past 15 years, about 300 students each semester schedule the non-credit course.

"Too many persons start to read without a purpose, failing to seek the basic meaning of the materials," explained Dr. Lyman C. Hunt, associate professor of education who is in charge of the course. "This habit is particularly harmful in so-called 'study' reading."

Dr. Nell Murphy, assistant professor of education at Penn State, who also has been active in the reading program, says that "too many people want everything predigested and are unwilling to make the effort to become understanding readers."

Both she and Dr. Hunt agree that the formation of good study and reading habits takes much time and effort.

One of the most important reading skills is the ability to recognize the main idea and key themes of the material being read. Development of a broad vocabulary is another necessary skill.

The good reader should be able to pick out facts for permanent recall as opposed to incidental, unimportant data. They suggest, for this purpose, a system of "cue notes," a practice involving putting down certain key words that contain "the meat of the subject."

They say that the reader should try to pinpoint the author's objective and also attempt to relate what he reads to his own experiences.

Most Trucks in Nation Fail to Pass Safety Check

WASHINGTON (UP) — A total of 87 per cent of the nation's trucks recently inspected by the government failed to pass a road safety check.

The Interstate Commerce Commission said either the driver flunked the requirements or the truck was defective.

There was, however, a slight improvement over the three previous months in which the ICC has been making its nationwide safety compliance checks. There was an 88 per cent deficiency in August and July and nearly 90 per cent in May.

The most frequent mechanical defect in the 10,685 vehicles inspected was in braking systems. The road inspectors found that of the trucks given a thorough inspection, 5,919 had defective brakes.

In 4,983 cases drivers' logs failed to meet requirements and in 2,963 instances, drivers lacked proper doctor's certificates showing physical fitness.

The commission added, however, that there had been a substantial decrease from the 7,386 defects in braking systems found in the August road check.

Allegheny Ludlum Using New Press

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (UP)—Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. announced today a new 2,000-ton hydraulic forging press for hot-working of steel, titanium and other metals has been placed in operation at its Dunkirk Works.

The press was built by Lake Erie Engineering Corp., Buffalo, N.Y.

Your Health—

Many Ills Possible To Feet

By H. N. BUNDENSEN, M.D.

When anyone mentions foot trouble, you naturally think of corns, bunions, flat feet, athlete's foot and maybe ingrown nails.

However, this list barely scratches the surface. There are actually more than 50 foot afflictions. You might be susceptible to many if not most of them.

Even though at least 80 per cent of our children under the age of 14 have some sort of foot trouble, the picture isn't as dark as it may seem. A full 80 per cent of the nation's foot ills can be prevented with a little thought and care.

The National Foot Health Council has compiled a list of ten basic rules which, if followed, can do a lot to keep your feet healthy. Let me pass these suggestions on to you with a few of my own added here and there.

1. Bathe your feet at least once every day. Scrub them with a soft brush to remove the dead skin. Dry them thoroughly and use foot powder afterward.

2. Don't wear the same shoes or stockings two days in succession. Change your socks or stockings at least once a day.

3. Cut your toenails straight across and not shorter than the flesh.

4. Wear all-leather shoes, both soles and uppers. Pick the right shoe for the right occasion. (I'll have more to say about the correct type of shoes to wear in a future column.)

5. Be sure your shoes are of the proper size and last. Your stockings should be at least half an inch longer than your longest toe.

6. Your feet have muscles, too, so limber them up once in a while with the following exercises.

Wriggle your toes with your shoes off, elevate your feet to stimulate circulation. Try picking up a pencil with your toes or stand on a book and bend your toes over the edge.

7. Don't get your feet wet needlessly. If they do get wet from prespiration or from some other cause, dry them and change your shoes and socks as soon as possible.

8. Cultivate good posture. Your feet should be pointed straight ahead for proper walking.

9. Examine your children and yourself periodically for any foot troubles or poorly fitting shoes.

10. Don't be a "bathroom surgeon." If your feet need attention, consult your family physician, a chiropodist or a podiatrist.

Question and Answer

Q.T.: My child has had frequent sore throats and tonsilitis. When would you advise me to have his tonsils removed?

Answer: Your physician is the best judge as to whether or not the tonsils should be removed. If he thinks the procedure wise, it would be well to wait until the polio season is over, unless there is an emergency.

In Hollywood—

Actor Tours Europe; Gives His Impressions

(Vernon Scott is on vacation. Today Kirk Douglas relates his experiences in Europe while making a pair of pictures across the Atlantic.)

By KIRK DOUGLAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Like several hundred thousand other Americans, I spent the summer in Europe. Although most of them were on vacation, while I was there to work, I did have enough time off to play the tourist and gape at monuments, take a crack at ordering meals in foreign languages, and expose a lot of film.

Since I obviously can't invite you all into my living room to look at the home movies, I would like to talk about some of the things that impressed me most.

Favors Long Lunch

I was definitely in favor of the 90-minute lunch hour. Europeans do not understand, and won't even try to, the American short-order quick - snack grab - it-on-the-run noontime meal. They enjoy eating and they like to savor each mouthful.

Once I got used to it, I found I was for their quiet and casual acceptance of life's normal delays. While we were shooting "Paths of Glory" a friend in America cabled that he was sending a script to me airmail special delivery and wanted an immediate reaction. Two days passed and still no script.

I rushed to the Munich postoffice and demanded an explanation. The official shrugged his shoulders and said, "Sometimes it happens this way." Maybe this attitude prevents the Europeans from accomplishing as much as we do, but I also noticed they do not gulp pills with each meal, nor do they need sleeping tablets or wake-up lozenges or any of the other artificial boosters so many of us seem to require.

Kirk Douglas

High Regard For Artists

I was for candlelight on the dinner tables, the gas - saving park-easy small cars, the high regard for artists, musicians, opera singers, composers, writers and actors.

The question most asked, of course, is: What about European women? I will say this — American women are better dressed, better groomed and do far more with what they've got than their across-the-seas sisters. Not a word more.

After all, I married a European, and after surviving the World War I battlefields of "Paths of Glory" and the 10th Century wars in "The Vikings"—I don't intend to get clobbered now.

National Chorus Is Planned

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK—(UP)—The brewers of the nation are about to advance our cultural lives in a very serious and costly enterprise involving a permanent mixed chorus of symphonic proportion.

It is to be called The National Chorus of America, will be maintained on a year-around basis and is made up of 54 professional singers who are being paid at a little better than union rates.

The choristers, newly hired after exacting auditions, are in rehearsal under their permanent conductor, Edwin McArthur, who is also conductor of the Harrisburg (Pa.) Symphony and of the St. Louis Minicipal Opera. McArthur is a high-class pro of growing reputation.

His standards are so high that though his singers are on salary, they will be rehearsed for two months — until December—before they will sing one note before an audience. That costs money—but it also can make for extraordinary choral singing. The idea behind the enterprise is to make a chorus so sensational that it will make a continuous big musical splash from coast to coast.

College Tour First

The brewers are picking up the tab in this way. The United States Brewers Foundation set up the National Institute for Music, Inc. and appointed Julius Bloom, a wellknown impressario, as executive director. This institute organized the chorus and hired McArthur.

Figures are hard to get, but the annual payroll probably will be around $300,000. Eventually, at least some of that will come back through the box office because the plan is for at least two concert tours every year. The first full-dress concert will be given in New York's Carnegie Hall in February or March.

There will be a "shake-down" tour of universities and colleges in January. Present plans are for the chorus to work a great deal with the amateur choruses of universities. The male section, for instance, will be available to appear in campus concerts with the female section of the amateur choruses — and vice versa. The amateurs will benefit musically — and will be delighted —by singing with professionals, it is believed.

What the singers will sing has not been worked out in detail, but the word is there will be no compromise with "good musical taste." Palestrina, Bach, and the other old masters of choral music will have their places but, on the other hand, "modern tastes" also will be recognized.

For Educational TV

The Ford Foundation, which pioneered in musical philantrophy to advance our so-called national culture, has extended its enterprise to the violin-piano sonata of all musical periods. Thirty times over the next three years, Joseph Fuchs, violin, and Artur Balsam, piano, will perform a sonata (or sonatas) over a Boston TV station, under foundation sponsorship.

When they are televised, they also will be filmed and recorded, and the kinescopes will be made available for educational TV outlets around the country and abroad. Fuchs and Balsam, by the way, are among the finest players of violin-piano sonatas now performing, and from any musical viewpoint, it is an enterprise of great moment.

Torquato Fund Passes Test

HARRISBURG (UP)—The controversial special fund in the Labor and Industry Department that caused the dismissal of John R. Torquato as department head nine months ago has been found to be in good financial shape

Auditor General Charles C. Smith said his office found "nothing dishonest" in the financial status of the fund The audit was directed by the recent Legislature after Torquato, Cambria County Democratic chairman, was fired from his cabinet post and 23 fund employes were suspended during a controversy with Gov George M Leader over disposition of the account.

The audit, covering the period from June 1, 1945 when the fund was created to last June 30, showed expenditures of $2,455,576, including $454,253 for salaries and wages The fund had a bank balance of $1,282,157 on June 30

Torquato was the central figure in an administration hassle, climaxed by his firing last Jan. 23 over handling of the fund The 23 fund employes were suspended without pay the same day for allegedly not putting in a full day's work for their state salaries.

The fund accumulates from fines and penalties levied against employers who fail to make proper returns on their payments into the state unemployment compensation fund. The money is used for payroll purposes, labor surveys and similar activities.

DIFFERENT STORIES — James T. Neilsen, an alias-using employe of Nathan Shefferman's Chicago labor relations firm, tells the Senate labor rackets hearing in Washington that he did not know he was violating the Taft-Hartley law while working to break a union drive at Sears-Roebuck in Boston in 1953, and that he did not arrange for two pro-union employes to be beaten up. However, another witness, Angelo Gimmasi, a Neilsen helper at the time, testified that Neilsen told him what was being done "was against the Taft-Hartley law and would have to be kept secret." (International)

Crucible Miners Return to Work

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (UP) — Some 400 miners at the Crucible Steel Co mine at nearby Crucible have returned to work after a two-day strike.

The miners, members of the United Mine Workers, returned to work pending additional discussions in a seniority dispute which arose over the layoff of 83 men in a production cutback.

Enforcement of Traffic Laws Important in Cutting Accidents

(This is the last of a series of dispatches on traffic fatalities and accidents in Pennsylvania written for the United Press by O. D. Shipley, director of the Bureau of State Highway Safety. It deals with what is being done by the state government to improve the situation)

By O. D. SHIPLEY

HARRISBURG (UP) — Enforcement of our traffic laws rigid, but fair and impartial—is one of the utmost importance in bringing about a reduction in our traffic accidents and fatalities.

Tough law enforcement provides the answer to curbing and ridding our highways of the "lunatic fringe", the small percentage of drivers responsible for the major part of our problems. Harsh as this suggestion may appear on the surface, it can do the job that needs to be done to make our highways safe and has the advantage of protecting the safe motorist from the irresponsible, unfit driver.

The law-abiding motorist has nothing to fear from such a program.

The tremendous growth of our transportation system, the fact that our highway system is lagging behind the demands placed upon it, and the steady growth of the number of licensed drivers emphasizes the need for adequate law enforcement.

Pennsylvania has over four and three-quarter million drivers, one and a quarter million of whom have never had an examination of any kind. Of the remainder, the majority have not been examined for many years.

And the plain, simple truth is that enforcement has not kept pace.

We have little, if any more, enforcement today than we did 15 years ago despite the fact we have millions more cars and drivers on our streets and highways.

Police departments are woefully undermanned to do the job simply because enforcement costs money and we, as taxpayers have, through our elected officials, refused to pay for what we need

Yet, where strict law enforcement is in effect, it is well established that highway deaths and accidents show a marked decrease

Adequate law enforcement can be accomplished only through the use of modern techniques and tools. For example, the present method of catching speeders through the chase-by-car, is not only antiquated in the face of heavier traffic and high speed cars, but is highly dangerous

The always hazardous chase-by-car may have seemed the sporting way of apprehending law violators in the early days of motoring. But in today's heavier traffic there is no place for a game of wits between motorists and enforcement officers. Many unthinking drivers still consider it neither illegal or dangerous to violate traffic laws—so long as they are not caught.

Among the modern tools of enforcement available is radar, a new and scientifically accurate instrument. Unfortunately, attempts to legalize the use of radar in the detection of speed violations in Pennsylvania, a recommendation of the Governor's Traffic Safety Council and strongly supported by Governor George M. Leader, failed to gain approval during the 1957 session of the General Assembly.

Sales Tax May Be Top Producer

HARRISBURG (UP) — A state official said today the 3 per cent sales tax has a good chance to replace the corporate net income tax as Pennsylvania's top revenue producer.

Revised budget estimates call for the sales tax to yield 448-million dollars in the two-year fiscal period ending May 31, 1959, while the 6 per cent corporate net income tax revenue is figured at 314-million dollars.

Charles H. Seligman, deputy revenue secretary for General Fund revenues, estimated the sales tax yield should come to between 420 and 430 million dollars, still well over the CNI take.
